If you do not understand the English version, you should obtain independent professional advice.

- Enforcement of Judgments

A large portion of our business, assets and operations are located outside Hong Kong. If you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) have obtained a judgment against us in a Hong Kong court upon a default of our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs and our assets in Hong Kong are not sufficient to satisfy all the claims, you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) may have to enforce the Hong Kong judgment against our assets outside Hong Kong and may experience difficulties and delays in doing so or may not be able to enforce it at all. If you are in any doubt, you should seek independent legal advice regarding this. In the worst case scenario, you could lose all of your investment.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded put option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on the expiry date. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date compared to the coupon barrier price and exercise price. The coupon barrier price and exercise price of the reference stock may be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant indicative term sheet. The coupon barrier price of the reference stock will always be set at a price equal to or higher than the exercise price, and the exercise price of the reference stock will always be set at a price equal to or lower than the initial spot price.
- (1) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the coupon barrier price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential bonus enhancement amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Bonus enhancement rate}$$

The bonus enhancement rate is the higher of:

- (i) the bonus coupon rate as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the performance coupon rate as calculated as follows:

The bonus coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%.

You should note that you will not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount on the settlement date (i) if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the coupon barrier price or (ii) in the case where the coupon barrier price is set at a level equal to or lower than the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%, if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price.

- (2) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the coupon barrier price but is at or above the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the nominal amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

This scenario will not occur if the coupon barrier price of the reference stock is set at a price equal to the exercise price.

- (3) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Alternate redemption level}$$

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

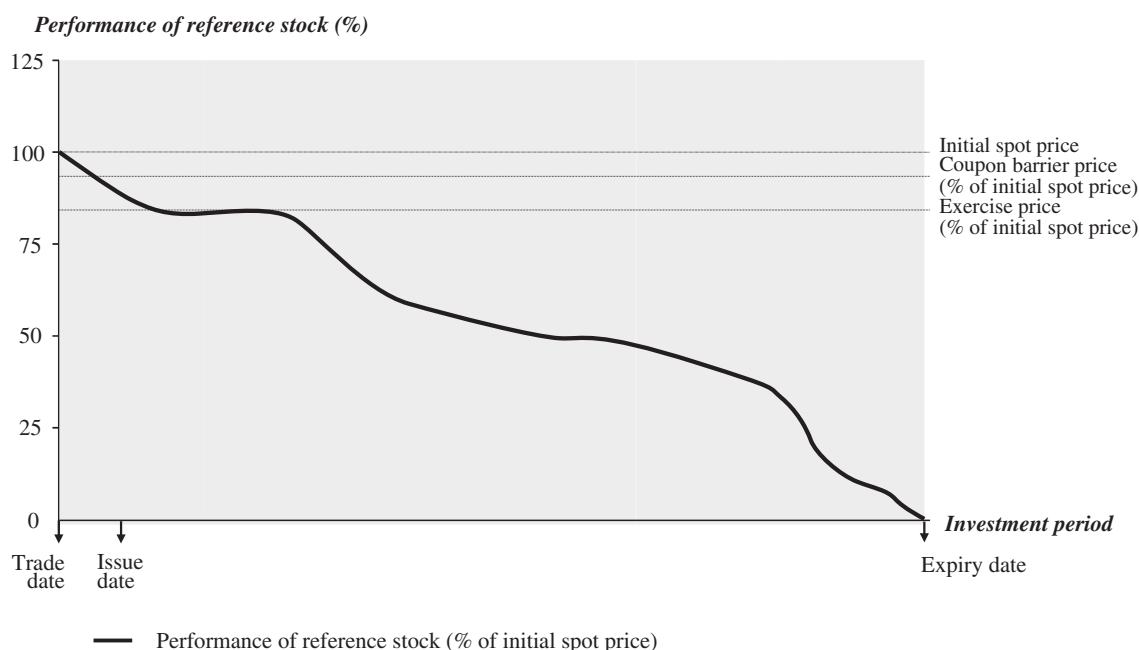

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that the reference stock on the expiry date closes below the exercise price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will receive, on the settlement date, a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level).

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

Please also refer to Appendix C to this product booklet for more illustrative examples of how the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs work.

To exercise such right, you must submit your instructions to your distributor within a specified timeframe (as specified in the relevant term sheet) on any Hong Kong business day during the post-sale cooling-off period.

If you submit your instructions to unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI purchase order to your distributor on or after the trade date, the issue price will be deducted from your account with your distributor on the issue date and we will pay to you (via your distributor) the order unwind price (being a cash amount equal to the issue price less any market value adjustments) which is capped at and may be substantially less than the issue price. You may suffer a loss on your investment by unwinding your purchase order in this case.

Your distributor may charge you a handling fee when you cancel or unwind (as the case may be) the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI purchase order during the post-sale cooling-off period. Please ask your distributor for further details of any handling fees that it may charge.

On each market making day, we (as the market agent) will (i) make available (through the distributors) indicative bid prices (on a per BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI basis) during normal business hours; and (ii) provide (through the distributors) a firm bid price for the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs (on a per BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELI basis) upon your request, provided that your request for a firm bid price is submitted to your distributor within a specified timeframe (as specified in the relevant term sheet) on such market making day.

The indicative bid prices are provided for your reference only as they may not be the same as the firm bid price at which the market agent is willing to buy back the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs.

If you early terminate your BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs by selling back to us on a market making day, the actual amount you receive may be substantially less than your original investment amount.

Please also note that market making arrangements may not be available on a scheduled market making day if certain events occur. Your distributor may also charge you a fee when you sell the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs back to us on a market making day and such fees or charges will reduce the amount you receive.

There is no market making arrangement for the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN ELIs with an investment period of six months or less.

The potential bonus enhancement amount is only payable if certain conditions are met and may not be payable at all. You will not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount on the settlement date (i) if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the coupon barrier price or (ii) in the case where the coupon barrier price is set at a level equal to or lower than the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%, if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price. You should also note that payment of a potential bonus enhancement amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You will still suffer a loss if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs ?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded call option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on the expiry date. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date compared to the coupon barrier price. The coupon barrier price of the reference stock may be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- (1) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the coupon barrier price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The redemption amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Minimum redemption level}$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

The potential bonus enhancement amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Bonus enhancement rate}$$

The bonus enhancement rate is the higher of:

- (i) the bonus coupon rate as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the performance coupon rate as calculated as follows:

The bonus coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%.

You should note that you will not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount on the settlement date (i) if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the coupon barrier price or (ii) in the case where the coupon barrier price is set at a level equal to or lower than the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%, if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the bonus enhancement rate are set. The payment of a potential bonus enhancement amount (if any) does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (if any) is less than your original investment amount.

- (2) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the coupon barrier price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs.

Performance of reference stock (%)

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that the reference stock on the expiry date closes below the coupon barrier price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will receive, on the settlement date, a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the minimum redemption level).

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

Please also refer to Appendix C to this product booklet for more illustrative examples of how the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN WOEP ELIs work.

- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on:
 - (i) whether a daily knock-in event has occurred. A daily knock-in event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-in event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is below the knock-in price. The knock-in price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-in price will always be set at a level which is lower than or equal to the exercise price; and
 - (ii) if a daily knock-in event has occurred, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date compared to the exercise price. The exercise price of the reference stock may be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant indicative term sheet. The exercise price of the reference stock will always be set at a price equal to or lower than the initial spot price.
- (1) If a daily knock-in event has not occurred on any knock-in event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential bonus enhancement amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Bonus enhancement rate}$$

The bonus enhancement rate is the higher of:

- (i) the bonus coupon rate as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the performance coupon rate.

The performance coupon rate is the higher of:

- (i) 0; and
- (ii) the rate calculated as follows:

The bonus coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%.

You should note that you will not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount on the settlement date (i) if a daily knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date or (ii) if a daily knock-in event has not occurred on a knock-in event date, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%.

- (2) If a daily knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is above the initial spot price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Performance coupon rate}$$

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to or below the initial spot price.

- (3) If a daily knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price but is at or above the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the nominal amount (less any cash settlement expenses).
- (4) If a daily knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Alternate redemption level}$$

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

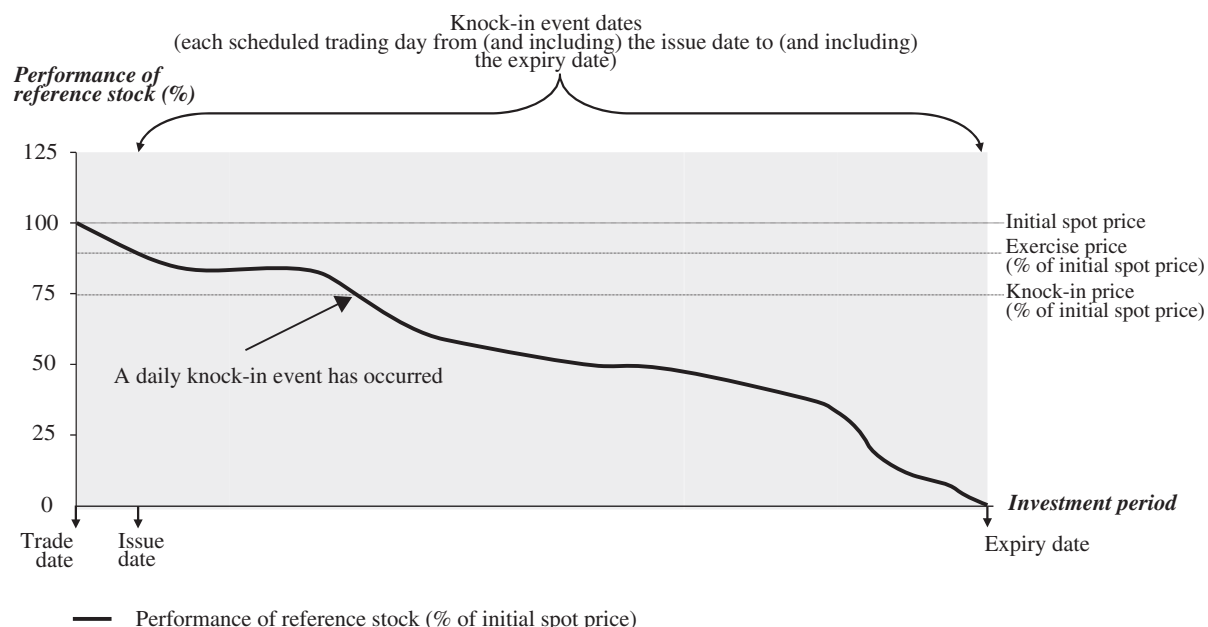

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELLs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that the reference stock on certain knock-in event dates closes below the knock-in price, therefore a daily knock-in event occurs and the reference stock on the expiry date closes below the exercise price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will receive, on the settlement date, a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level).

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN DKI ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs ?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded conditional put option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on the expiry date. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on whether an at-expiry knock-in event has occurred. An at-expiry knock-in event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on the knock-in event date, which is set as the expiry date, is below the knock-in price. The knock-in price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-in price will always be set at a level which is lower than or equal to the exercise price.
- (1) If an at-expiry knock-in event has not occurred on the knock-in event date (i.e. the expiry date), you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential bonus enhancement amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential bonus enhancement amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Bonus enhancement rate}$$

The bonus enhancement rate is the higher of:

- (i) the bonus coupon rate as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the performance coupon rate as calculated as follows:

The bonus coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%.

You should note that you will not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount on the settlement date (i) if an at-expiry knock-in event has occurred on the knock-in event date or (ii) if an at-expiry knock-in event has not occurred, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%.

- (2) If an at-expiry knock-in event has occurred on the knock-in event date (i.e. the expiry date), you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Alternate redemption level}$$

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs.

Performance of reference stock (%)

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that the reference stock on the knock-in event date, also being the expiry date, closes below the knock-in price and has dropped to zero, therefore an at-expiry knock-in event occurs. Accordingly, you will receive, on the settlement date, a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level).

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

Please also refer to Appendix C to this product booklet for more illustrative examples of how the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELIs work.

If you have purchased a BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI with an investment period of more than one year, you have the right to cancel or unwind (as the case may be) the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI purchase order during the period from (and including) the date you place the BNP Paribas Single MR BEN EKI ELI purchase order (the order date) to (and including) the fifth Hong Kong business day after the order date (this period is referred to as the "post-sale cooling-off period"). What are BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded conditional call option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on each relevant scheduled trading day. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on:
 - (i) whether a knock-out barrier event has occurred. A knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-out barrier event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is (i) above, or (ii) at or above, as the case may be as specified in the relevant term sheet, the knock-out barrier price. The knock-out barrier price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-out barrier price will always be set at a level which is higher than the initial spot price; and

(ii) if a knock-out barrier event has not occurred, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date compared to the exercise price. The exercise price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant indicative term sheet. The exercise price of the reference stock will always be set at a price equal to or lower than the initial spot price.

- (1) If a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The knock-out barrier coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Knock-out barrier coupon rate}$$

The knock-out barrier coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any knock-out barrier coupon amount if the knock-out barrier coupon rate is set as 0%.

- (2) If a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Performance coupon rate}$$

The performance coupon rate is the higher of:

- (i) 0; and
(ii) the rate calculated as follows:

$$\frac{(\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^* - \text{Participation strike price of the reference stock})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Participation ratio}$$

The participation strike price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The participation strike price will always be set at a level which is equal to or higher than the exercise price.

The participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the participation strike price and (ii) the initial spot price.

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to or below the participation strike price.

 You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be (i) below, or (ii) at or below, as the case may be, the knock-out barrier price (otherwise a knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the knock-out barrier price and the participation strike price and (b) the initial spot price, (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable participation ratio.

- (3) If a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

Nominal amount x Alternate redemption level

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

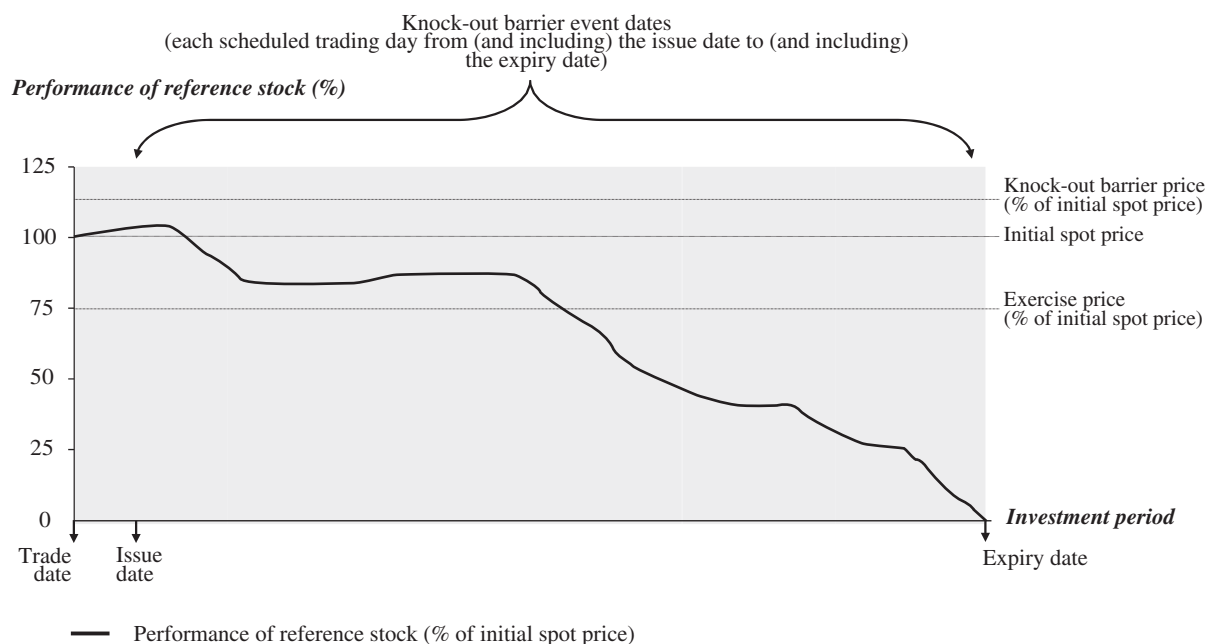

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will only receive a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level) on the settlement date.

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

Please also refer to Appendix C to this product booklet for more illustrative examples of how the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out ELIs work.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs ?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded conditional call option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on each relevant scheduled trading day. The reference stock can be shares in a company and/or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.

- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on whether a knock-out barrier event has occurred. A knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-out barrier event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is (i) above, or (ii) at or above, as the case may be as specified in the relevant term sheet, the knock-out barrier price. The knock-out barrier price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-out barrier price will always be set at a level which is higher than the initial spot price.
- (1) If a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The redemption amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Minimum redemption level}$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

The knock-out barrier coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Knock-out barrier coupon rate}$$

The knock-out barrier coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any knock-out barrier coupon amount if the knock-out barrier coupon rate is set as 0%.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the knock-out barrier coupon rate are set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

- (2) If a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Performance coupon rate}$$

The performance coupon rate is the higher of:

- (i) 0; and
- (ii) the rate calculated as follows:

$$\frac{(\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^* - \text{Participation strike price of the reference stock})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Participation ratio}$$

The participation strike price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet.

The participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the participation strike price and (ii) the initial spot price.

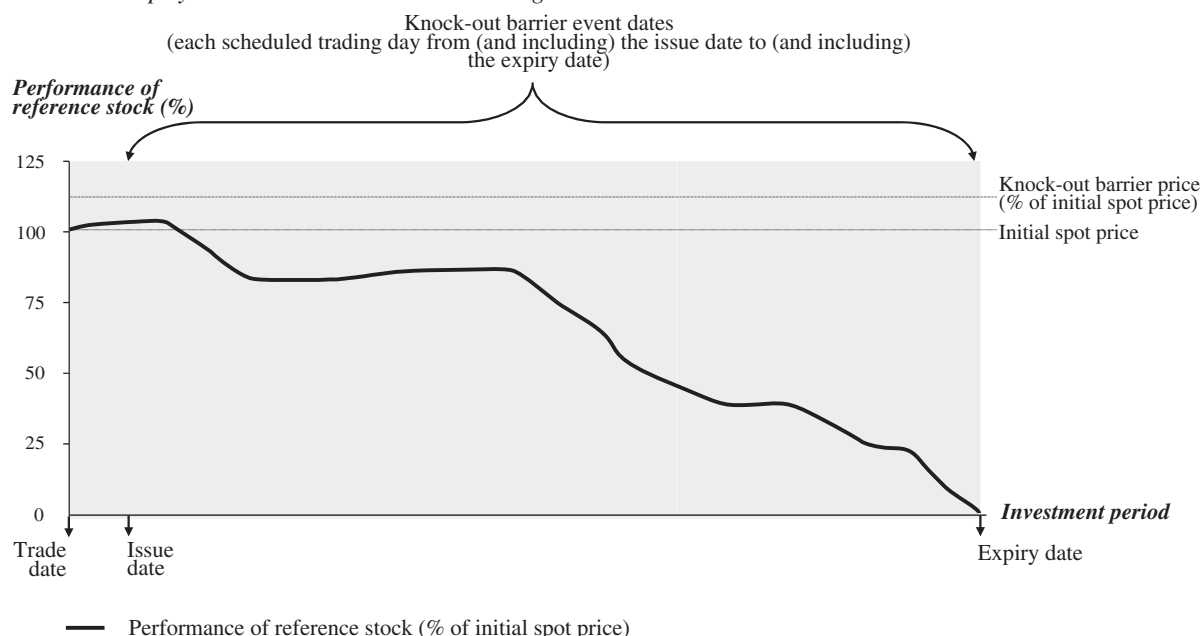

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to or below the participation strike price.

 You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be (i) below, or (ii) at or below, as the case may be, the knock-out barrier price (otherwise a knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the knock-out barrier price and the participation strike price and (b) the initial spot price, (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable participation ratio.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the performance coupon rate are set. The payment of a potential performance coupon amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date. You will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date since the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will only receive the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the minimum redemption level) on the settlement date.

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs ?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including an embedded conditional call option and an embedded conditional put option over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on each relevant scheduled trading day. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on:
 - (i) whether a knock-out barrier event has occurred. A knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-out barrier event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is (i)

above, or (ii) at or above, as the case may be as specified in the relevant term sheet, the knock-out barrier price. The knock-out barrier price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-out barrier price will always be set at a level which is higher than the initial spot price; and

(ii) if a knock-out barrier event has not occurred, whether a daily knock-in event has occurred. A daily knock-in event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-in event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is below the knock-in price. The knock-in price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The knock-in price will always be set at a level which is lower than or equal to the exercise price.

- (1) If a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The knock-out barrier coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Knock-out barrier coupon rate}$$

The knock-out barrier coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any knock-out barrier coupon amount if the knock-out barrier coupon rate is set as 0%.

- (2) If:

- (a) both knock-out barrier event and daily knock-in event have not occurred, or
- (b) a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date but a knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date, and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Performance coupon rate}$$

The performance coupon rate is the higher of:

- (i) 0; and
- (ii) the rate calculated as follows:

$$\frac{(\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^* - \text{Participation strike price of the reference stock})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Participation ratio}$$

The participation strike price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The participation strike price will always be set at a level which is equal to or higher than the exercise price.

The participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the participation strike price and (ii) the initial spot price.

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to or below the participation strike price.

* You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be (i) below, or (ii) at or below, as the case may be, the knock-out barrier price (otherwise a knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the knock-out barrier price and the participation strike price and (b) the initial spot price, (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable participation ratio.

- (3) If a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date but a knock-in event has occurred on a knock-in event date, and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Alternate redemption level}$$

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

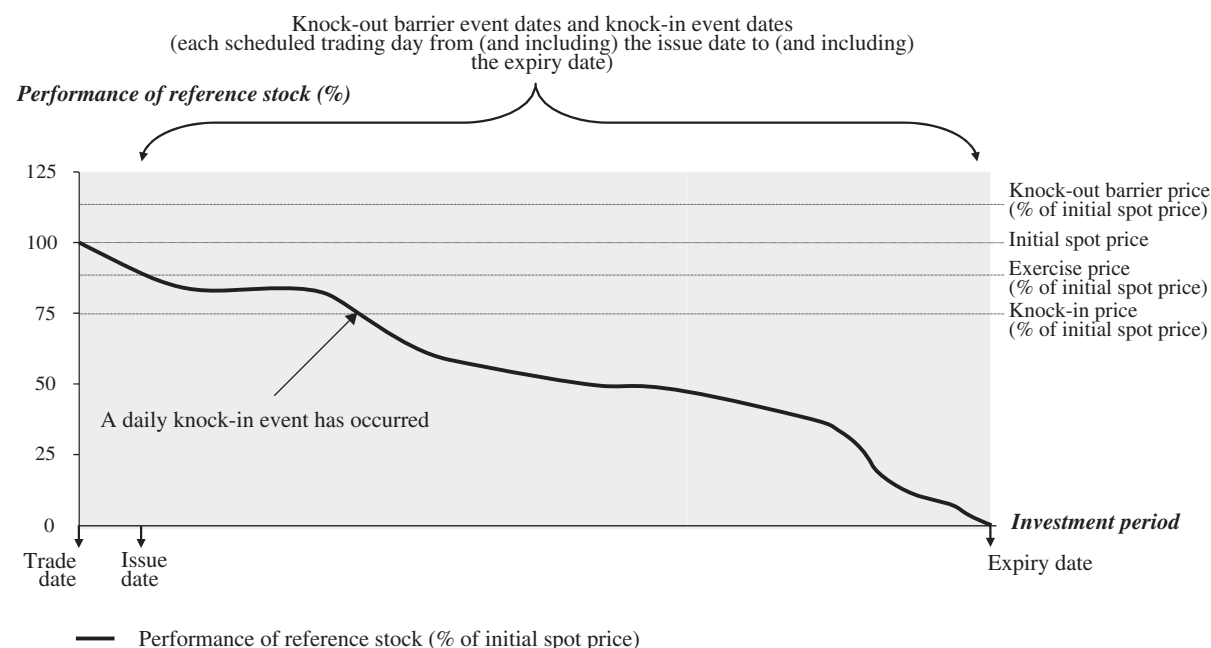

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that: (i) a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date, (ii) the reference stock on certain knock-in event dates closes below the knock-in price, therefore a daily knock-in event occurs and (iii) the reference stock on the expiry date closes below the exercise price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will only receive a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level) on the settlement date.

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Knock-out barrier coupon rate}$$

The knock-out barrier coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any knock-out barrier coupon amount if the knock-out barrier coupon rate is set as 0%.

- (2) If both knock-out barrier event and at-expiry knock-in event have not occurred, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Performance coupon rate}$$

The performance coupon rate is the higher of:

- (i) 0; and
(ii) the rate calculated as follows:

$$\frac{(\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^* - \text{Participation strike price of the reference stock})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Participation ratio}$$

The participation strike price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The participation strike price will always be set at a level which is equal to or higher than the exercise price.

The participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the participation strike price and (ii) the initial spot price.

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to or below the participation strike price.

 You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be (i) below, or (ii) at or below, as the case may be, the knock-out barrier price (otherwise a knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the knock-out barrier price and the participation strike price and (b) the initial spot price, (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable participation ratio.

- (3) If a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date but an at-expiry knock-in event has occurred on the knock-in event date (i.e. the expiry date), you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the redemption amount calculated as follows:

Nominal amount x Alternate redemption level

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50%.

The above scenario illustrates that a knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date and the reference stock on the knock-in event date, also being the expiry date, closes below the knock-in price and has dropped to zero, therefore an at-expiry knock-in event occurs. Accordingly, you will only receive a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level) on the settlement date.

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including embedded call options and put options over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on the expiry date. The reference stock can be shares in a company or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.
- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date compared to the upper call exercise price, lower call exercise price and exercise price. The upper call exercise price, the lower call exercise price and the exercise price of the reference stock may be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant indicative term sheet. The upper call exercise price of the reference stock will always be set at a price higher than the lower call exercise price and the lower call exercise price of the reference stock will always be set at a price equal to or higher than the exercise price.

- (1) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the lower call exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount, (ii) the potential return amount and (iii) the additional return amount (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential return amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

- (i) Where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the upper call exercise price, the potential return amount shall be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount x } \frac{\text{Upper call exercise price of the reference stock} - \text{Lower call exercise price of the reference stock}}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \text{ x Participation ratio}$$

- (ii) Where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the upper call exercise price but is at or above the lower call exercise price, the potential return amount shall be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount x } \frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date} - \text{Lower call exercise price of the reference stock}}{\text{Initial spot price of reference stock}} \text{ x Participation ratio}$$

The participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential return amount will be less than the nominal amount, multiplied by either (i) the difference between the upper call exercise price of the reference stock and the lower call exercise price, divided by the initial spot price, or (ii) the difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the lower call exercise price, divided by the initial spot price.

You should note that you will not receive any potential return amount on the settlement date if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the lower call exercise price. You should also note that the maximum potential return amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the price difference between the upper call exercise price and the lower call exercise price, divided by the initial spot price, multiplied by the nominal amount and the applicable participation ratio.

The additional return amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI will be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount x Additional return rate}$$

The additional return rate will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet and will always be set at a rate higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any additional return amount if the additional return rate is set at 0%.

- (2) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the lower call exercise price but is at or above the exercise price*, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the nominal amount and (ii) the additional return amount (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses).

*This scenario will not occur if the exercise price of the reference stock is set at a price equal to the lower call exercise price.

- (3) If the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is below the exercise price, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the additional return amount (if any).

The redemption amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELI will be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Alternate redemption level}$$

The alternate redemption level is the higher of:

- (i) the minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet; and
- (ii) the percentage calculated in accordance with the following formula:

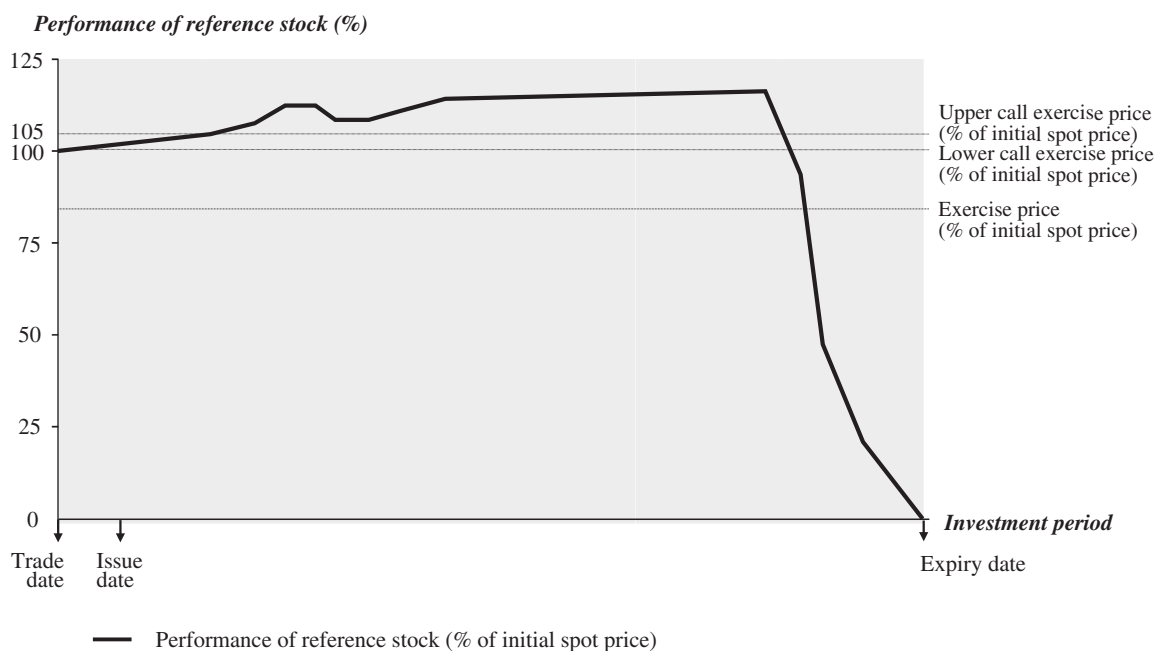

$$\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Exercise price of the reference stock}} \times 100\%$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the additional return rate are set. You should note that you will suffer a loss in this case if the sum of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the additional return amount (if any) is less than the initial investment amount.

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50% and the additional return rate is 0%.

The above scenario illustrates that the reference stock on the expiry date closes below the exercise price and has dropped to zero. Accordingly, you will receive, on the settlement date, a cash amount equal to the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the alternate redemption level, which in this case is equal to the minimum redemption level).

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

Please also refer to Appendix C to this product booklet for more illustrative examples of how the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs work.

We may early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR PCR ELIs upon the occurrence of certain events (such as delisting).

The BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs are not capital protected. Provided that you hold the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs until expiry and the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, the payout at maturity under the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs is subject to a minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet, which may be less than your initial investment amount. Please note that the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs are also subject to other risks including our creditworthiness and the creditworthiness of your distributor and/or its custodian(s) as mentioned below.

It is possible that you will not receive any potential gain at all. For more information, please refer to the "Risk Warnings" section of this product booklet.

- You may not receive any potential performance coupon amount and payment of a potential performance coupon amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario

The potential performance coupon amount is only payable if certain conditions are met and may not be payable at all. You will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a double knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to the initial spot price and the minimum coupon rate is set at 0%. You should also note that payment of a potential performance coupon amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You will still suffer a loss if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

- Occurrence of a double knock-out barrier event does not automatically result in a gain scenario

If a double knock-out barrier event has occurred, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any). In this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the knock-out barrier coupon rate are set. You should note that you will suffer a loss if the sum of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

What are BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs ?

A. Overview

- The BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI is an unlisted structured investment product which has a series of embedded options including embedded conditional put and call options over the reference stock.
- Potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI is linked to the performance of the reference stock on each relevant scheduled trading day. The reference stock can be shares in a company and/or units or shares of a fund listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and quoted in Hong Kong dollars (“HKD”), RMB, United States dollars or such other currencies as specified in the relevant term sheet. Not all Hong Kong-listed shares or units can be used as the reference stock for the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs — please ask your distributor what reference stock is available.

- You can buy a BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI at the issue price, which is equal to or at a discount to the nominal amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs. The issue price and the minimum investment amount of the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be specified in the relevant indicative term sheet.
- The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms such as the initial spot price of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your order. These terms will be expressed as a specified percentage of the initial spot price of the reference stock in the relevant indicative term sheet, and their exact values will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs. In both cases, the finalised terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs will be set out in the relevant final term sheet which will be sent to your distributor on or before the second business day after the trade date. Your distributor will notify you of the finalised terms and send you the final term sheet.

B. At expiry — cash settlement only

- If the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, you will receive the settlement amount on the settlement date (being a date falling no later than the third business day after the expiry date). For the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the settlement amount will depend on whether a double knock-out barrier event has occurred. A double knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on any knock-out barrier event date, which is set as each scheduled trading day during the period as specified in the relevant term sheet, is either:
 - (a) (i) at or below, or (ii) below, as the case may be as specified in the relevant term sheet, the lower knock-out barrier price; or
 - (b) (i) at or above, or (ii) above, as the case may be as specified in the relevant term sheet, the upper knock-out barrier price.

Each of the lower knock-out barrier price and the upper knock-out barrier price of the reference stock is set at a specified percentage of the initial spot price in the relevant term sheet. The lower knock-out barrier price will always be set at a level which is lower than the initial spot price. The upper knock-out barrier price will always be set at a level which is higher than the initial spot price.

- (1) If a double knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses).

The redemption amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Minimum redemption level}$$

The minimum redemption level will be a percentage as set out in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

The knock-out barrier coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Knock-out barrier coupon rate}$$

The knock-out barrier coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that you will not receive any knock-out barrier coupon amount if the knock-out barrier coupon rate is set as 0%.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the knock-out barrier coupon rate are set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

- (2) If a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (less any cash settlement expenses).

The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of the following amounts:

- (a) the minimum coupon amount; and
 - (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount (i.e. where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the initial spot price), or the potential downside performance coupon amount (i.e. where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price).
- (a) The minimum coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Minimum coupon rate}$$

The minimum coupon rate will be a percentage as set out in the relevant indicative term sheet, and will be set at a rate which is higher than or equal to 0%. You should note that the minimum coupon amount will be zero if the minimum coupon rate is set as 0%.

- (b) The potential upside performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Upside performance coupon rate}$$

The upside performance coupon rate will be determined as follows:

The upside participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the upside participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential upside performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and the initial spot price and (ii) the initial spot price.

 You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be either (i) at or below, or (ii) below, as the case may be, the upper knock-out barrier price (otherwise a double knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential upside performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential upside performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the upper knock-out barrier price and the initial spot price and (b) the initial spot price and (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable upside participation ratio.

The potential downside performance coupon amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Nominal amount} \times \text{Downside performance coupon rate}$$

The downside performance coupon rate will be determined as follows:

$$\left(\frac{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock} - \text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^{}}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \right) \times \text{Downside participation ratio}$$

The downside participation ratio will be a rate as set out in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%. You should note that if the downside participation ratio is set at a rate below 100%, the potential downside performance coupon amount will be less than the amount calculated based on the division between (i) the price difference between the initial spot price and the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date and (ii) the initial spot price.

* You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be either (i) at or above, or (ii) above, as the case may be, the lower knock-out barrier price (otherwise a double knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential downside performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential downside performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the initial spot price and the lower knock-out barrier price and (b) the initial spot price and (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable downside participation ratio.

You should note that you will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date if a double knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to the initial spot price and the minimum coupon rate is set at 0%.

You should also note that in this scenario, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the higher of (a) the minimum coupon amount (if any) and (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount or the potential downside performance coupon amount (as the case may be).

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level, minimum coupon rate, lower knock-out barrier price, upper knock-out barrier price, upside participation ratio and downside participation ratio are set. The payment of a potential performance coupon does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

Worst case scenario

The hypothetical example below does not reflect a complete analysis of all possible gain or loss scenarios. You must not rely on it as an indication of the actual performance of the reference stock or the total payout on the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELLs.

The above scenario assumes that the minimum redemption level is 50% and the minimum coupon rate is 0%.

The above scenario illustrates that a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred on any knock-out barrier event date. You will not receive any potential performance coupon amount on the settlement date since the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is equal to the initial spot price and the minimum coupon rate is set at 0%. Accordingly, you will only receive the redemption amount (being the nominal amount multiplied by the minimum redemption level) on the settlement date.

In this case, you will suffer a loss which is the difference between: (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level, i.e. 50%) (less any cash settlement expenses).

If the Issuer becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, you could lose all of your investment.

You may not receive any potential bonus enhancement amount (if applicable), potential performance coupon amount (if applicable) or the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if applicable) on the settlement date. Provided that you hold the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs until expiry and the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, the payout that you receive at maturity is subject to a minimum redemption level, which may be less than your initial investment amount. - The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are designed to be held to their expiry date. There will only be limited market making arrangements for some of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

The limited market making arrangements only apply to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of more than six months. Any indicative bid prices provided under the market making arrangements are provided for your reference only as they may not be the same as the firm bid price at which the market agent is willing to buy back the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. You should note that any firm bid price provided to you by your distributor will only be valid for a limited period of time as notified to you by the distributor.

Also, you should note that market making arrangements may not be available on a scheduled market making day if the relevant BNP Paribas Single MR ELI is affected by any market disruption events or if the market agent experiences any technical problems beyond its control affecting its ability to provide a bid price for our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, including any power failure or breakdown of its computer system. If that happens, we will postpone the relevant market making day to the next business day on which The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Hong Kong Stock Exchange”) and the related exchange are open for trading which is not affected by any of such event or problem.

In addition, if the settlement currency is RMB and an RMB disruption event occurs on, or prior to and is continuing on, the relevant date of payment, such payment will be postponed and may be made in a HKD equivalent amount.

Please note that the amount you receive from selling your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on a market making day may be substantially less than the minimum redemption at maturity and your original investment amount. You could lose part or all of your investment and may receive an amount less than the minimum redemption at maturity if you choose to sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs prior to the expiry date. Your distributor may also charge you a fee for handling the market-making arrangement applications when you sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to us on a market making day and such fees or charges will reduce the amount you receive. Please contact your distributor for details.

You should note that the market making arrangements DO NOT apply to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of six months or less.

Please see pages 139 to 140 for further details on the market making arrangements.

- Post-sale cooling-off period only applies to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of more than one year

Post-sale cooling-off period only applies to a BNP Paribas Single MR ELI with an investment period of more than one year. If you cancel or unwind (as the case may be) the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order during the post-sale cooling-off period, we (as the market agent) are obliged to cancel the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order (if you submit your instructions to cancel the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order to your distributor before the trade date) or unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs at the order unwind price (if you submit your instructions to unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order to your distributor on or after the trade date). However, in both cases, your distributor may charge you a handling fee when you cancel or unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order and (if you unwind your BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order) such handling fee will be deducted from the order unwind price payable to you. If you unwind your BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order, the order unwind price is capped at and may be substantially less than the issue price. In addition, if the settlement currency is RMB and an RMB disruption event occurs on, or prior to and is continuing on, the relevant date of payment, such payment will be postponed and may be made in a HKD equivalent amount. Please refer to pages 138 to 139 of this product booklet for further details of how this order unwind price is calculated.

You should also note that the right to cancel or unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order during the post-sale cooling-off period DOES NOT apply to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of one year or less.

- The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not listed on any stock exchange, they are not covered by the Investor Compensation Fund

As the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not listed, the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not covered by the Investor Compensation Fund in Hong Kong if your distributor or any other intermediary defaults.

- There is no collateral for the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. When you buy the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you will be relying on our creditworthiness

The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs constitute our general, unsecured and unsubordinated contractual obligations and of no other person. When you buy the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you will be relying on our creditworthiness and have no rights under the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs against the issuer of reference stock. If we become insolvent or default on our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, in the worst case scenario, you could lose all of your investment.

The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not secured on any of our assets or any collateral. There is no assurance of protection against a default by us in respect of our payment obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- Enforcement of judgments

We are a company incorporated under the laws of France and operate on a global basis. A large portion of our business, assets and operations are located outside Hong Kong.

We have submitted to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Hong Kong on matters relating to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. If you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) have obtained a judgment against us in a Hong Kong court upon a default of our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) may enforce such judgment against our assets in Hong Kong in accordance with applicable laws and procedures to seek to recover any amount due under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

However, to the extent that our assets in Hong Kong are not sufficient to satisfy all the claims under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) may have to enforce the Hong Kong judgment against our assets located outside Hong Kong. Enforcement of a Hong Kong judgment in an overseas jurisdiction is subject to the local laws and regulations of the relevant jurisdiction and may depend on, among other factors, whether there is any reciprocal arrangement for the enforcement of judgment between Hong Kong and the relevant jurisdiction (and even if there is such reciprocal arrangement, whether the relevant conditions and requirements are satisfied in order for the judgement to be enforced) and is subject to compliance with the local procedures and requirements. You or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) may therefore experience difficulties or delay in enforcing the judgment or may not be able to enforce it at all, and as a result may not be able to recover all or any of the amount due under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In the worst case scenario, you may get nothing back and lose your entire investment amount.

This is a complicated area of law and if you have any doubt or wish to understand more, you should obtain independent legal advice.

- Regulatory action(s) by the relevant resolution authorities in the event that we (as the issuer) are failing or likely to fail could materially affect your rights under, and the market value of, and the potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

We are a credit institution incorporated in France and is subject to the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (2014/59/EU), as amended (“BRRD”), and the French legislation having implemented the BRRD and Regulation (EU) No 806/2014, as amended. The BRRD provides for the establishment of a European Union framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms falling under the scope of BRRD. The BRRD requires the governments of all EU member states to provide their relevant resolution authorities with a set of tools to intervene sufficiently early and quickly in an unsound or failing institution so as to ensure the continuity of that institution’s critical financial and economic functions, while minimising the impact of that institution’s failure on the broader economy and financial system.

Under the relevant French regulation, the Autorité de contrôle prudentiel et de résolution (ACPR) and/or certain resolution authorities are conferred with substantial powers to enable them to take or exercise a wide range of actions or powers in respect of the relevant entities (including, such as, us) if the relevant resolution authorities consider the failure of the relevant entity has become likely and certain other conditions are satisfied.

These powers include share transfer powers, property transfer powers (including powers for the partial transfer of property, rights and liabilities), and resolution instrument powers (including powers to make special bail-in provisions) over the relevant affected financial institution(s). In connection with the exercise of these powers under the BRRD, the relevant resolution authorities may take various actions in relation to any securities issued by us (including the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs) without your consent, including (among other things):

- transferring the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs to another person (such as a parent undertaking or a bridge institution) notwithstanding any restrictions on transfer under the current terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
- the reduction of all, or a portion, of the amounts payable by us under the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs (including a reduction to zero);
- the conversion of all, or a portion, of our potential liabilities under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs (including any amounts payable by us under the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs) into shares or other securities or our other obligations or obligations of another person, including by means of an amendment, modification or variation of the contractual terms, in which case you agree to accept in lieu of your contractual rights under the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
- the cancellation of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs; and/or
- the amendment or alteration of the maturity of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or amendment of the amount payable under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, or the date on which the amount becomes payable, including by suspending payment for a temporary period.

The exercise of any resolution power or any suggestion of any such exercise under the BRRD over us could adversely affect our creditworthiness and your rights under, and the market value of, and the potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. You may therefore lose all or a substantial part of your investment in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

In addition, the resolution powers could be exercised (i) prior to the commencement of any insolvency proceedings in respect of us, and (ii) by the relevant resolution authorities without your consent or any prior notice to you. It is also uncertain how the relevant resolution authorities would assess triggering conditions in different pre-insolvency scenarios affecting us under the BRRD. Accordingly, you may not be able to anticipate a potential exercise of any such resolution powers over us and/or the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- By investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you acknowledge, accept, consent and agree to be bound by the exercise of any Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authorities

By investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, you acknowledge, accept, consent and agree to be bound by the exercise of any Bail-In Power (as defined in the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs) by the relevant resolution authorities. You further acknowledge, accept, consent and agree that your rights under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are subject to, and will be varied, if necessary, so as to give effect to, the exercise of any Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authorities. Accordingly, if any Bail-In Power is exercised over us, you may lose all or a substantial part of your investment in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, or receive a different security issued by us (or another person) in place of your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, which may be worth significantly less than the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. Moreover, the relevant resolution authorities may exercise the Bail-In Power without providing any advance notice to, or requiring your further consent.

- Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance

The Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance (Cap. 628, the Laws of Hong Kong) (the “FIRO”) provides a regime for the orderly resolution of financial institutions with a view to avoiding or mitigating the risks otherwise posed by their non-viability to the stability and effective working of the financial system of Hong Kong, including the continued performance of critical financial functions. The FIRO seeks to provide the relevant resolution authorities with a range of powers to bring about timely and orderly resolution in order to stabilise and secure continuity for a failing authorised institution in Hong Kong. In particular, it is envisaged that subject to certain safeguards, the relevant resolution authority would be provided with powers to affect contractual and property rights as well as payments (including in respect of any priority of payment) that creditors would receive in resolution, including but not limited to powers to write off, or convert into equity, all or a part of the liabilities of the failing financial institution.

As an authorised institution regulated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority, we are subject to and bound by the FIRO. The exercise of any resolution power by the relevant resolution authority under the FIRO in respect of us may have a material adverse effect on the value or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, and as a result, you may not be able to recover all or any amount due under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In the worst case scenario, you may get nothing back and you could lose all of your investment.

This is a complicated area of law and if you have any doubt or wish to understand more, you should obtain independent legal advice.

- You have no direct contractual rights against us

The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are held either (i) through the clearing system or (ii) outside the clearing system through a distributor. Your distributor (or its custodian) will be given direct contractual rights of enforcement against us as the issuer under the deed of covenant. In the event of a default in payment on the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on our part (as the issuer), you will have to rely on your distributor (where applicable, through its custodian) to take action against us as the issuer on your behalf and you will be exposed to their credit risk. Accordingly, if your distributor fails to enforce any rights against us as the issuer on your behalf, or if your distributor becomes insolvent or defaults on its obligations, you will not have any direct contractual rights against your distributor’s custodian (if applicable) and us as the issuer but you will need to take action directly against your distributor in accordance with terms of arrangement between you and your distributor to establish your interest in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs before you could assert your right of claim against your distributor's custodian (if applicable) and us as the issuer. You may experience difficulties in taking such legal proceedings.

This is a complicated area of law and if you have any doubt or wish to understand more, you should obtain independent legal advice.

- You have no rights in the reference stock. Buying the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is not the same as buying the reference stock

The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are unlisted structured investment products embedded with derivatives. Buying the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is not the same as buying the reference stock and you have no rights in the reference stock, including without limitation, the right to receive dividends or other distributions. Changes in the market price of the reference stock may not lead to any corresponding change in the market value of, and/or your potential payout under, the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- You will also be relying on the creditworthiness of the distributors, any custodian or intermediary and the nominee and/or operators of the relevant clearing system through which you hold the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

There are risks associated with the custodial arrangements under which the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are held. Your distributor may become insolvent or default on its obligations under the terms of the relevant account keeping or custodian agreement with you. Any custodian or intermediary (including any accountholder) and the nominee and/or operators of the relevant clearing system may also become insolvent or default on their obligations under the terms of the account keeping or custodian agreements they have with your distributor and/or any other custodians or intermediaries. Your remedies as an unsecured creditor against your distributor, and your remedies and your distributor's remedies as an unsecured creditor against any custodian or intermediary (including any accountholder) and the nominee and/or operators of the clearing system, will depend on factors such as the terms of the relevant account keeping or custodian agreements, the location of the accounts in which the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are held by your distributor or any custodian or intermediary (including any accountholder) (this is because such accounts may be located in jurisdictions other than Hong Kong or the jurisdiction of the relevant clearing system and may, therefore, be subject to the laws and procedures of such other jurisdictions) and whether or not the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs have been segregated from any other assets.

Even if the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs you purchased do not form part of the pool of assets which is applied towards satisfying the claims of the general unsecured creditors of the insolvent or defaulted distributor, custodian or intermediary (including any accountholder) or nominee or operator of the relevant clearing system, there could still be substantial delay before you could receive the cash paid under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs if your distributor, any custodian or intermediary (including any accountholder) or the nominee or operator of the relevant clearing system becomes insolvent or defaults under its obligations. In the worst case scenario, you could lose all of your investment.

- The market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may fluctuate

The market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may fluctuate depending on factors such as market interest rate movements, our financial condition, the market's view of our credit quality, the price performance and price volatility of the reference stock, the value of the embedded options and the market for similar securities. In extreme circumstances, you may lose a substantial part of your initial investment.

- You are exposed to the risks in respect of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs from the trade date

As you will be subject to the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs from the trade date, you will be exposed to the risks in respect of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs from the trade date (including market risk and (if applicable) exchange rate risk).

- The English version of the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs prevails over the Chinese version

If the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are held through international securities clearing system, the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are issued in English only for the purposes of lodgement with the relevant clearing system. If there is any inconsistency between the Chinese version of the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and the English version, the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs provide that the English version will prevail over the Chinese version. If you do not understand the English version, you should obtain independent professional advice.

- Your potential gain/loss on the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is affected by distributor(s)' charges and settlement expenses

Your potential gain/loss on the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will be affected by any handling fee your distributor charges when you make your application and any fees it charges to open and maintain your securities or investment account. Please contact your distributor for more information about the amount of the relevant charges payable. Your potential gain/loss on the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will also be affected by any cash settlement expenses payable on settlement. For further details on the cash settlement expenses payable for the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, please refer to the relevant term sheet.

Your distributor may also charge you a handling fee when you cancel or unwind your BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order during the post-sale cooling-off period or sell your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to us on a market making day, and such fees or charges will reduce the amount you receive when you cancel or unwind your BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order or sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to us. Please contact your distributor for further details.

- Investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may involve exchange rate risk

If the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are not denominated in your home currency, the amount you receive when converting the foreign currency payments you receive under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to your home currency will be affected by the prevailing exchange rate between the settlement currency and your home currency. You should note that fluctuations in the exchange rate may have an adverse impact on your potential gain/loss on the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- Some of the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may only be determined after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

The initial spot price of the reference stock may be set as either (i) the closing price of the reference stock on the trade date or (ii) the specific price of the reference stock (as agreed between us and you (through your distributor) at the time you place your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs order on the trade date) and your order will be executed at such agreed price. In the case of (i), you should note that the exact values of certain terms for the relevant series such as the initial spot price, the exercise price (if applicable), the coupon barrier price (if applicable), the knock-in price (if applicable), the knock-out barrier price (if applicable), the participation strike price (if applicable), the upper call exercise price (if applicable), the lower call exercise price (if applicable), the upper knock-out barrier price (if applicable) and the lower knock-out barrier price (if applicable) of the reference stock will not be known at the time you place your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs order and will only be determined on the trade date after you purchased the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- We, as the calculation agent, may adjust the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner

If we, as the calculation agent, determine that (i) an event which has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the reference stock has occurred (including but not limited to, a subdivision or consolidation of that reference stock, a bonus or rights issue); or (ii) a merger event or a tender offer affecting the reference stock or a company or fund issuing the reference stock has occurred, we, as calculation agent, will seek to adjust some of the terms and conditions of the relevant series of BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs to account for that event so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

If we, as the calculation agent, determine that any corresponding adjustments to the terms and conditions of the relevant series of BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is unable to account for the relevant merger event or tender offer (as described above) so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or an additional disruption event, including (i) an insolvency; (ii) a nationalisation; (iii) a delisting; (iv) a change in law; (v) an increase in the cost of hedging; (vi) an insolvency filing; or (vii) a fund termination event, affecting the reference stock or a company or fund issuing the reference stock has occurred, we, as the calculation agent, will early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and we will pay you a fair market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. Depending on the then prevailing market conditions, this fair market value may be less, or substantially less, than the minimum redemption at maturity and the original amount you invested.

You should refer to the section headed “The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs — Extraordinary Unforeseeable Events, Adjustments to Terms and Conditions, Early Termination, Adjustments to Key Dates and Arrangement Upon the Occurrence of an RMB Disruption Event” on pages 128 to 135 of this product booklet and the general terms and conditions as set out in Appendix B to this product booklet for further details. Any adjustments of the reference stock or early termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will be made by us (as the calculation agent) in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner.

- Investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may have taxation implications

Investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may have taxation implications, please refer to the section headed “Taxation” in the programme memorandum for a summary of the tax laws on current law and practice in Hong Kong and the United States that may affect you. Such summary is intended to give you an overview of what Hong Kong and the United States tax you might have to pay if you hold the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. You should consult your own tax adviser about the tax consequences of investing in the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, particularly if you are subject to special tax rules.

- The unwinding of hedging arrangements relating to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may affect the price of the reference stock

We, as the issuer, may enter into hedging transactions with counterparties in the market in order to hedge our exposure under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, which would typically involve contracts for the purchase and/or sale of the reference stock and the establishment of long and/or short positions in the reference stock which may be constantly adjusted. The unwinding or adjustment of the positions in the reference stock may itself affect the market price of the reference stock, particularly if there is otherwise low trading volume in the reference stock at that time. It is possible that this activity could affect the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date, a knock-in event date (if applicable) or a knock-out barrier event date (if applicable), which may have an adverse impact on the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- We or our group companies may buy and sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

We or our group companies may at any time and at any price buy the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs whether in the open market or by private arrangement. If purchases are made by tender, we or our group companies will allow all ELI holders of the series to take part. Any BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs that we or our group companies purchased may be held or resold or cancelled. So long as there is sufficient trading volume in the reference stock of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs at that time, we do not expect such buying or selling of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs by us or our group companies to affect the market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. However, if there is low trading volume in the reference stock at that time, it is possible that this activity could affect the closing price of the reference stock on each scheduled trading day during the investment period.

- Risk factors related to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to the reference stock that is a unit or share of a fund or trust in general

Where the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are linked to the performance of a unit or share in a fund or trust (being units or shares of an exchange traded fund or a real estate investment trust), you should note that we are not able to control or predict the actions of the trustee or the manager of a fund or trust and that such fund or trust will have its own terms and conditions, which have not been issued or approved by us.

The trustee(s) and/or manager(s) of the fund or trust is/are responsible for making investment, trading and/or other asset management decisions with respect to the fund or trust consistent with its investment objectives, investment restrictions and/or strategy as set out in its constitutive documents. The manner in which the fund or trust is managed and the timing of any such action may have a significant impact on the performance of the fund or trust which in turn affects the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. We do not in any way guarantee the performance of the fund or trust or the amount payable under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. Neither the trustee, the manager nor any other service provider of the fund or trust (i) is involved in the offer of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in any way, or (ii) has any obligation to consider your interest or the interest of any distributor (as our counterparty) in taking any actions that might affect the market price of the reference stock and, in turn, affect the market value of and/or the potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- Risk factors specific to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to a unit or share of an exchange traded fund

Where the reference stock is a unit or share in an exchange traded fund (“ETF”), you should note that an ETF is exposed to the political, economic, currency and other risks related to the underlying asset pool or index that the ETF is designed to track. There may also be disparity between the performance of the ETF and the performance of the underlying asset pool or index that the ETF is designed to track as a result of, for example, failure of the tracking strategy, currency differences, fees and expenses. In addition, where the index or market that the ETF tracks is subject to restricted access, the efficiency in the unit or share creation or redemption to keep the price of the ETF in line with its net asset value may be disrupted, causing the ETF to trade at a premium or discount to its net asset value. Such risks may have a negative impact on the performance of the reference stock and the market value and/or potential payout of BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

If an ETF adopts a synthetic replication investment strategy to achieve its investment objectives by investing in financial derivative instruments linked to the performance of an underlying asset pool or index that the ETF is designed to track, you should also note that:

- (a) investments in financial derivative instruments will expose the ETF to the credit, potential contagion and concentration risks of the counterparties who issued such financial derivative instruments. As such counterparties are predominantly international financial institutions, the failure of one such counterparty may have a negative effect on other counterparties of the ETF. Even if the ETF has collateral to reduce the counterparty risk, there may still be a risk that the market value of the collateral has fallen substantially when the ETF seeks to sell the collateral; and
- (b) the ETF may be exposed to higher liquidity risk if the ETF invests in financial derivative instruments which do not have an active secondary market. Such derivatives may have to be valued or sold at a much lower price than those with an active secondary market given a wider bid-offer spread in the price of the derivatives. This may result in losses in the ETF and may adversely affect the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in which case you may suffer a loss in your investment.

You should read the offering document of the ETF for further information about the risks applicable to the ETF.

- Risk factors specific to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to an ETF investing through QFI regimes and/or China Connect (“China ETF”)

Where the reference stock is the unit or share of an ETF investing through the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor regime and the RMB Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor regime (collectively, “QFI regimes”) and/or the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect (collectively, “China Connect”), you should note that:

- (a) the policy and rules for QFI regimes and China Connect prescribed by the PRC central government are subject to change, and there may be uncertainty to their implementation. Such uncertainty and potential change of the laws and regulations for QFI regimes and China Connect in Chinese Mainland may adversely impact on the performance of a China ETF, and may also have potential retrospective effect. These changes may in turn adversely affect the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
- (b) a China ETF primarily invests in securities traded in the Chinese Mainland’s securities markets and is subject to concentration risk. Investment in the Chinese Mainland’s securities markets (which are inherently stock markets with restricted access) involves certain risks and special considerations as compared with investment in more developed economies or markets, such as greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks. The operation of such China ETF may also be affected by interventions by the applicable government(s) and regulators in the financial markets;

- (c) trading of securities invested by a China ETF under the China Connect will be subject to a daily quota which is utilised on a first-come-first-serve basis under the China Connect. In the event that the daily quota under the China Connect is reached, the manager may need to suspend creation of further units or shares of such China ETF, and therefore may affect liquidity in unit or share trading of such China ETF. In such event, the trading price of a unit or share of such China ETF is likely to be at a significant premium to its net asset value, and may be highly volatile. The People's Bank of China and the State Administration of Foreign Exchange have published the detailed implementation rules removing the investment quota allocated to such China ETF under the QFI regimes with effect from 6 June 2020; and
- (d) there are risks and uncertainties associated with the current Chinese Mainland tax laws applicable to China ETF investing in Chinese Mainland through QFI regimes and/or China Connect. Although such China ETF may have made a tax provision in respect of potential tax liability, the provision may be excessive or inadequate. Any shortfall between the provisions and actual tax liabilities may be covered by the assets of such China ETF and may therefore adversely affect the net asset value of such China ETF and the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

Although the units or shares of such China ETF are listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, there is no guarantee that an active trading market for such units or shares will sustain or, if an active market does develop, liquidity of that market can be sustained. Also, the price and trading volume of the units or shares of such China ETF may be highly volatile subject to the market sentiment, and may be more volatile than would generally be expected for ETF with a longer trading history.

You should read the offering documents of the relevant China ETF to understand its key features and risks.

- Risk factors specific to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to a unit of a real estate investment trust

Where the reference stock is a unit in a real estate investment trust, you should note that the investment objective of real estate investment trust is to invest in a real estate portfolio. Each real estate investment trust is exposed to risks relating to investments in real estate, including but not limited to (a) adverse changes in political or economic conditions; (b) changes in interest rates and the availability of debt or equity financing, which may result in an inability by the real estate investment trust to maintain or improve the real estate portfolio and finance future acquisitions; (c) changes in environmental, zoning and other governmental rules; (d) changes in market rents; (e) any required repair and maintenance of the portfolio properties; (f) breach of any property laws or regulations; (g) the low liquidity of real estate investment; (h) real estate taxes; (i) any hidden interests in the portfolio properties; (j) any increase in insurance premiums and (k) any uninsurable losses.

There may also be disparity between the market price of the units of a real estate investment trust and the net asset value per unit. This is because the market price of the units of a real estate investment trust also depends on many factors, including but not limited to (a) the market value and perceived prospects of the real estate portfolio; (b) changes in economic or market conditions; (c) changes in market valuations of similar companies; (d) changes in interest rates; (e) the perceived attractiveness of the units of the real estate investment trust against those of other equity securities; (f) the future size and liquidity of the market for the units and the real estate investment trust market generally; (g) any future changes to the regulatory system, including the tax system and (h) the ability of the real estate investment trust to implement its investment and growth strategies and to retain its key personnel. Such risks may have a negative impact on the performance of the reference stock and therefore the market value and/or potential payout of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In addition, increase in the market price of the units of the real estate investment trust or its real estate portfolio may not lead to an increase in the market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs of the same magnitude or even any increase at all.

You should read the offering document of the real estate investment trust for further information about the risks applicable to the real estate investment trust.

- Risk factors specific to BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to the reference stock traded through the multiple counter model

Where the issuer of the reference stock of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs adopts the multiple counter model for trading of its shares or units on the Exchange in HKD and one or more foreign currencies (such as RMB and/or United States dollars) (each a “Foreign Currency”) separately, you need to consider the following additional risks:

- (a) the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may be linked to HKD-traded and/or Foreign Currency-traded shares or units. If the reference stock is shares or units traded in one currency counter, movements in the trading prices of the shares or units traded in another currency counter should not directly affect the market value of, and/or potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
- (b) if there is a suspension of inter-counter transfer of such shares or units between different currency counters for any reason, such shares or units will only be able to be traded in the relevant currency counter on the Exchange, which may affect the demand and supply of such shares or units and have an adverse effect on the market value of, and/or the potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs; and
- (c) the trading price on the Exchange of shares or units traded in one currency counter may deviate significantly from the trading price on the Exchange of shares or units traded in another currency counter due to different factors, such as market liquidity, foreign exchange conversion risk, supply and demand in each counter and exchange rate fluctuation. Changes in the trading price of the reference stock in the relevant currency counter may adversely affect the market value of, and/or the potential payout under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

You should read the offering documents of the relevant shares of a company or units or shares of a fund which are traded through the multiple counter model to understand its key features and risks.

- Risk factors specific to RMB-denominated BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and/or BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to RMB-quoted reference stock

Where the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are denominated in RMB or the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are linked to RMB-quoted reference stock, you should note the following additional risks:

- (a) Offshore RMB exchange rate risks

While both onshore RMB (i.e. RMB traded in Chinese Mainland) (“onshore RMB”) and offshore RMB (i.e. RMB traded outside Chinese Mainland) (“offshore RMB”) are the same currency, they are traded in different and separate markets operating under different regulations and independent liquidity pools. Onshore RMB and offshore RMB are currently quoted in different markets with different exchange rates, whereby their exchange rate movements may not be in the same direction or magnitude. The offshore RMB exchange rate may deviate significantly from the onshore RMB exchange rate.

The exchange rate of offshore RMB will be affected by, amongst other things, the PRC central government’s foreign exchange control. Non RMB-based investors may have to convert their home currency into RMB when investing in our RMB-denominated BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. Such investors may also have to convert payments made on such BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to their home currency. During these processes, such investors will incur currency conversion costs and be exposed to risk of fluctuation in the exchange rate of offshore RMB against their home currency.

Please note that like other foreign currencies, the exchange rate of offshore RMB may rise or fall. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Our RMB-denominated BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs shall not be used as an investment for speculating in the appreciation of RMB.

(b) Limited pool of RMB outside Chinese Mainland

RMB is subject to foreign exchange control and restrictions by the PRC central government.

There is currently a limited pool of RMB outside Chinese Mainland. Should the PRC central government tighten its foreign exchange control over the cross border movements between onshore RMB and offshore RMB, the liquidity in offshore RMB is likely to be adversely affected. Such limitation on liquidity in offshore RMB may increase our unwind cost on any hedging arrangements relating to our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs denominated in RMB or our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to RMB-quoted reference stock which may in turn adversely affect the market value of, and/or the potential payout under such BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

(c) Settlement risks for RMB disruption event

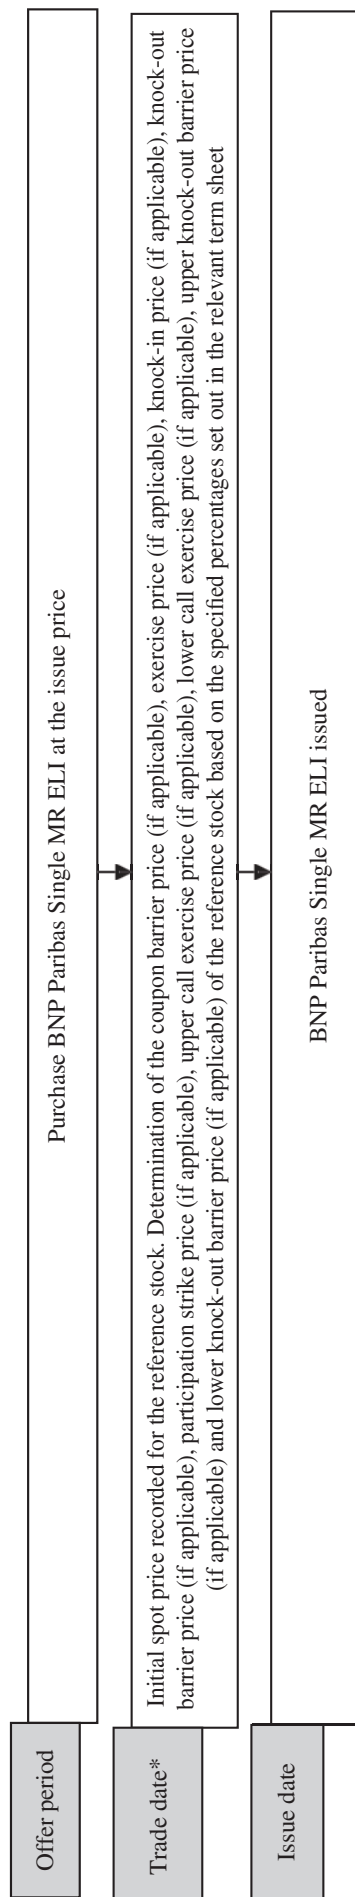

In the case where the settlement currency of our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is RMB, upon the occurrence of an RMB disruption event (for example, if an event occurs which makes it impossible for us to convert any amount due and payable in RMB under our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in the RMB exchange market in Hong Kong) has occurred on any date on which any amount payable in RMB under our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are scheduled to be paid, such payment will be postponed to the third business day after the date on which the RMB disruption event ceases to exist, unless the RMB disruption event continues to exist for twelve consecutive business days from the original scheduled payment date. In such case, we (as the issuer) will make payment of the HKD equivalent amount no later than the third business day after that twelfth business day. Any such payment made by us (as the issuer) shall be in full and final settlement of our obligations to pay the relevant amount payable in RMB on the affected payment date in respect of our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

The occurrence of an RMB disruption event could delay a payment to you under our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. We will not pay any extra amount (such as interest) for any delay in making such payment. In addition, if such payment is made in the HKD equivalent amount, you will also be exposed to the risk of fluctuation in the offshore RMB exchange rate against HKD. If offshore RMB depreciates significantly against HKD following the occurrence of an RMB disruption event, you will suffer a loss in HKD terms as the HKD equivalent amount paid to you will be substantially less than the value of the relevant amount payable in RMB on the original payment date in HKD terms (calculated based on the offshore RMB exchange rate against HKD prior to the occurrence of the RMB disruption event).

(d) RMB interest rate risk

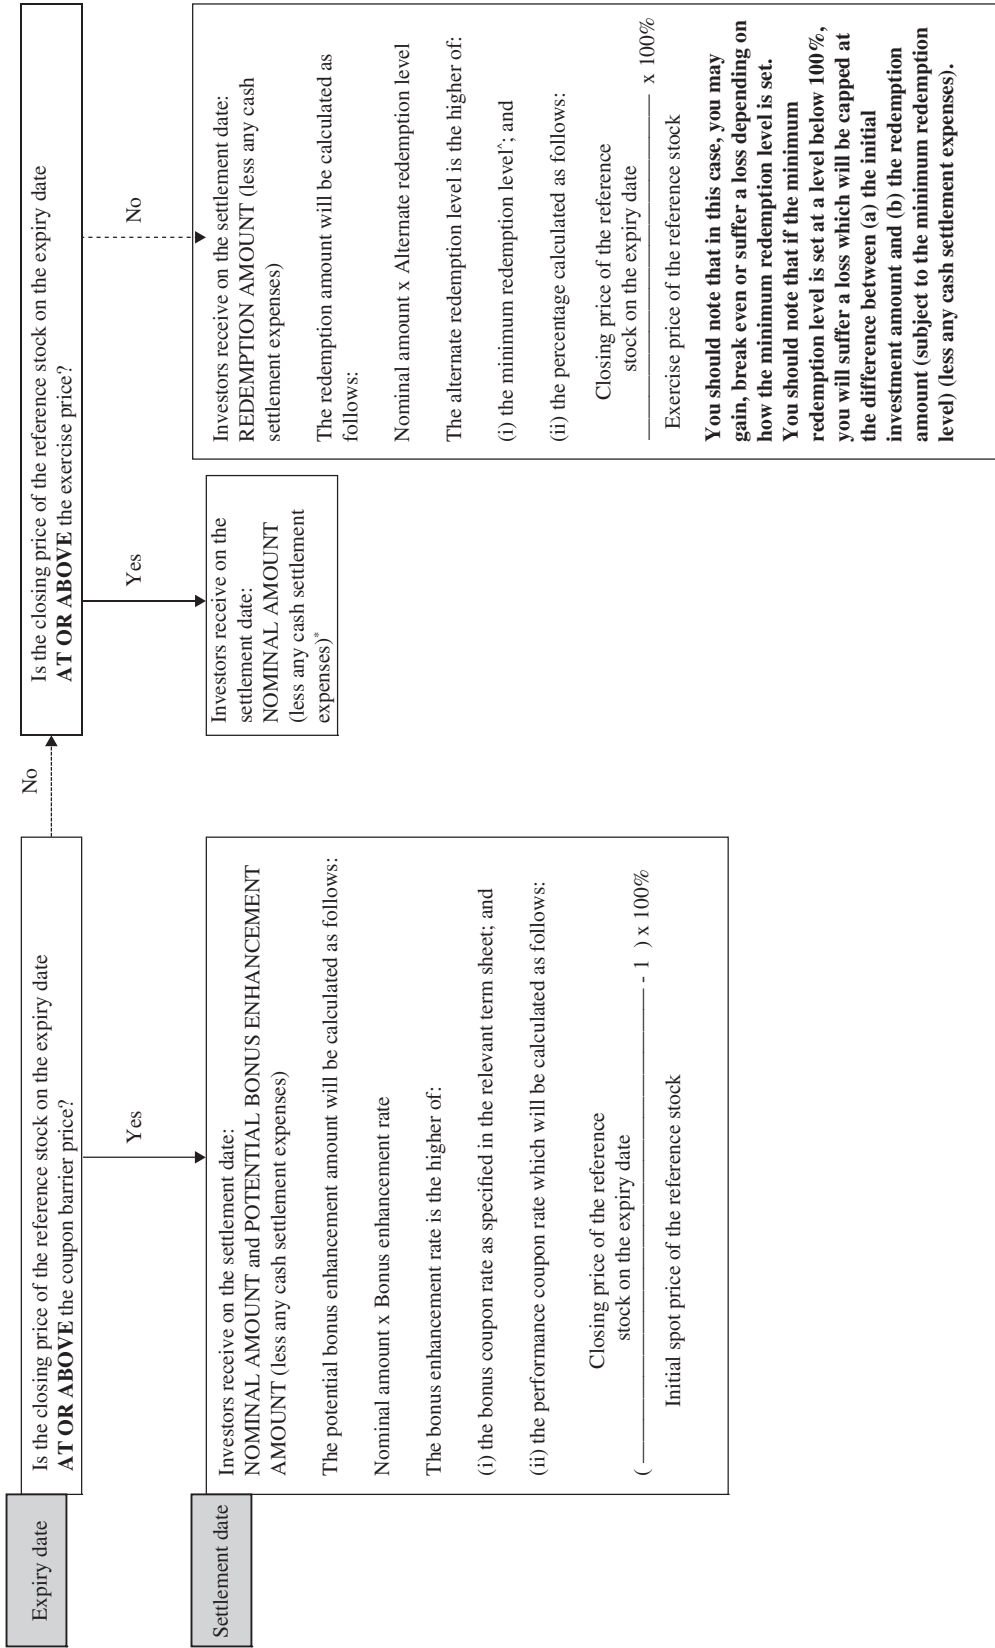

The interest rate for offshore RMB may be different from the interest rate for onshore RMB. The interest rate for offshore RMB and the interest rate for onshore RMB are currently traded in different markets with different rates, whereby their movements may not be in the same direction or magnitude. The interest rate for offshore RMB may deviate significantly from the interest rate for onshore RMB. Interest rates for onshore RMB are controlled by the PRC central government. Any further liberalisation of the interest rate for onshore RMB may occur and may affect the interest rate for offshore RMB. The market value of, and/or the potential payout under our RMB-denominated BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs linked to RMB-quoted reference stock may be adversely affected by the fluctuations in the interest rate for offshore RMB.

◆ This scenario will not occur if the exercise price is set at the same value as the lower call exercise price.

(x) For BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with double knock-out barrier feature (“BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs”)

Knock-out barrier event date	Is the closing price of the reference stock on a knock-out barrier event date either (a)(i) AT OR BELOW, as the case may be, as specified in the relevant term sheet, the lower knock-out barrier price; or (b)(i) AT OR ABOVE, as the case may be, as specified in the relevant term sheet, the upper knock-out barrier price (i.e. a double knock-out barrier event occurred)? No → Yes
Settlement date	Investors receive on the settlement date: REDEMPTION AMOUNT and POTENTIAL PERFORMANCE COUPON AMOUNT (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses) The redemption amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Minimum redemption level[] The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of the following amounts: (a) the minimum coupon amount; and (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount (i.e. where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or above the initial spot price), or the potential downside performance coupon amount (i.e. where the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price). The minimum coupon amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Minimum coupon rate The potential upside performance coupon amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Upside performance coupon rate The upside performance coupon rate will be calculated as follows: $\frac{(\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^ - \text{Initial spot price of the reference stock})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Upside participation ratio}^{\#}$ [*] You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be either (a) at or below, or (b) above, as the case may be, the upper knock-out barrier price (otherwise a double knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential upside performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential upside performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the upper knock-out barrier price and the initial spot price and (b) the initial spot price and (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable upside participation ratio. The potential downside performance coupon amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Downside performance coupon rate The downside performance coupon rate is calculated as follows: $\frac{(\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock} - \text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}^{\#})}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \times \text{Downside participation ratio}^{\#}$ ^{} You should also note that in this scenario, the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date will always be either (a) at or above, or (b) below, as the case may be, the lower knock-out barrier price (otherwise a double knock-out barrier event will occur and no potential downside performance coupon amount will be payable). Therefore, the maximum potential downside performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the multiple of (i) the division between (a) the price difference between the initial spot price and the lower knock-out barrier price and (b) the initial spot price and (ii) the nominal amount and (iii) the applicable downside participation ratio. You should also note that in this scenario, the maximum potential performance coupon amount will be capped at an amount calculated based on the higher of (a) the minimum coupon amount (if any) and (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount or the potential downside performance coupon amount (as the case may be). You should also note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level, the minimum coupon rate, the lower knock-out barrier price, the upper knock-out barrier price, the upside participation ratio and the downside participation ratio are set. The payment of a potential performance coupon amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss in this scenario if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.
	Investors receive on the settlement date: REDEMPTION AMOUNT and KNOCK-OUT BARRIER COUPON AMOUNT (if any) (less any cash settlement expenses) The redemption amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Minimum redemption level The knock-out barrier coupon amount will be calculated as follows: Nominal amount x Knock-out barrier coupon rate You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the knock-out barrier coupon rate are set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss if the aggregate of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

[^] The minimum redemption level will be specified in the relevant term sheet. The minimum redemption level may be set at a level below, at or above 100%, but will not be lower than 50% in any event.

[#] The upside participation ratio and downside participation ratio will be specified in the relevant term sheet, and will be set at a level which is above 0%.

You should note that in this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level is set. You should note that if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100%, you will suffer a loss which will be capped at the difference between (i) the initial investment amount and (ii) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) (less any cash settlement expenses).

THE BNP PARIBAS SINGLE MR ELIS —
EXTRAORDINARY UNFORESEEABLE EVENTS, ADJUSTMENTS
TO TERMS AND CONDITIONS, EARLY TERMINATION, ADJUSTMENTS TO KEY DATES AND ARRANGEMENT UPON THE OCCURRENCE OF AN RMB DISRUPTION EVENT

A. Extraordinary unforeseeable events; Adjustments to terms and conditions; Early termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs

What happens if an extraordinary unforeseeable event occurs in respect of a series of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs?	As we cannot foresee all extraordinary unforeseeable events that can occur in relation to us or the reference stock, the calculation agent may have to adjust the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in certain unforeseeable circumstances.
(a) If we, as the issuer, become insolvent or default on our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on or before the settlement date:	→ The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs represent our general, unsecured and unsubordinated contractual obligations. You will have to rely on your distributor to take action on your behalf to claim as one of our unsecured creditors if we become insolvent or default on our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. What you get under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will depend on the liquidation proceedings. In the worst case scenario, you may get nothing back and lose your entire investment amount.
(b) During the investment period, if we, as the calculation agent, determine, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that a potential adjustment event has occurred in relation to the reference stock and such event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the reference stock (including but not limited to, a subdivision or consolidation of the reference stock, a bonus or rights issue) (as more particularly set out in condition 6(a) of the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs):	→ We, as the calculation agent, will make such adjustments, if any, to the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs (where necessary, adjusting the exercise price (if applicable), the knock-out barrier price (if applicable), the participation strike price (if applicable), the knock-in price (if applicable), the coupon barrier price (if applicable), the upper call exercise price (if applicable), the lower call exercise price (if applicable), the upper knock-out barrier price (if applicable) and the lower knock-out barrier price (if applicable) of the reference stock) as we determine, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, to be appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the relevant BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In determining the aforesaid adjustment(s): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • if futures or options contracts of the reference stock are traded on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the related exchange, we, as the calculation agent, will follow any adjustment to the terms of the relevant futures or options contracts made and announced by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the related exchange, unless following such adjustment is not able to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In such case, we, as the calculation agent, will determine the aforesaid adjustment(s) in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs; or

- if there are no futures or options contracts of the reference stock traded on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the related exchange, we, as the calculation agent, will (where, and to the extent, applicable) follow the relevant rules as set out in the Operational Trading Procedures for Options Trading Exchange Participants of the Stock Exchange unless following such rules is not able to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. In such case, we, as the calculation agent, will determine the aforesaid adjustment(s) in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

We, as the calculation agent, will also determine, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, the effective date(s) of such adjustment(s) and shall observe and use, to the extent reasonably practicable, any such ex-date(s) or other relevant date(s) as provided by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the related exchange as the effective date(s) of such adjustment(s).

For the avoidance of doubt, the declaration or payment of an ordinary dividend is not an extraordinary unforeseeable event and that no adjustment will be made upon its occurrence.

- (c) During the investment period, if we, as the calculation agent, determine, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that an extraordinary unforeseeable event has occurred in relation to (1) the reference stock or a company issuing the reference stock (when the reference stock is a share), (2) the reference stock or a fund whose units or shares are the reference stock (where the reference stock is the unit or share of a fund). This would include:
- The calculation agent will make such adjustment, if any, to the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs as it determines, in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, to be appropriate to account for the extraordinary unforeseeable event so as to preserve the economic equivalence of the relevant BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in the same manner as described in sub-paragraph (b) above (such adjustment will include, where the company issuing the reference stock (where the reference stock is a share) or, as the case may be, the fund whose units or shares are the reference stock, has merged with another company or fund, deeming the shares or units of the surviving entity in the merger to be the new reference stock).
- i. merger event, amalgamation, takeover offer or other events with similar effect in respect of the company or the fund; or
 - ii. tender offer by another entity to purchase the company or fund issuing the reference stock.

If the calculation agent determines, in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that any such adjustment is unable to preserve the economic equivalence of the relevant BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, we will early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs as of the date selected by the calculation agent in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner and pay you an amount equal to the fair market value for your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs as of the date of termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs determined on a per BNP Paribas Single MR ELI basis (determined by the calculation agent in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner) no later than the third business day after the date of termination. The fair market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will depend on factors such as the value of the embedded options, the number of scheduled trading days until the expiry date, the price performance and the volatility of the reference stock, the market interest rate movements, our financial condition, the market's view of our credit quality, and our costs of unwinding any hedging arrangements relating to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and if a daily knock-in event, a knock-out barrier event or a double knock-out barrier event has occurred (if applicable). Depending on the then prevailing market conditions, this fair market value may be less, or substantially less, than the minimum redemption at maturity and the original amount you invested.

For further details, please refer to condition 6 of the terms and conditions on pages 182 to 187 of this product booklet.

- (d) During the investment period, if we, as the calculation agent, determine, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that an additional disruption event has occurred in relation to (1) the reference stock or a company issuing the reference stock (when the reference stock is a share), (2) the reference stock or a fund whose units or shares are the reference stock (where the reference stock is the unit or share of a fund). This would include:
- i. the insolvency of the company;
 - ii. the nationalisation of the reference stock;
 - iii. the delisting of the reference stock on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange;
 - iv. a change in law with the result that it becomes illegal for us to hold or dispose of the reference stock or will cause us to incur a materially increased cost in performing our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
 - v. our inability to hedge our exposure under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or a material increase in the cost of hedging our exposure under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs after the trade date (provided that such increase of cost is not incurred because of the deterioration of our creditworthiness);
 - vi. the institution of proceedings against or the petition by the regulator of the company for the company's winding-up or liquidation; and
 - vii. a fund termination event occurs in relation to the fund.
- We will early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs as of the date selected by the calculation agent in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner and pay you an amount equal to the fair market value for your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs as of the date of termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs determined on a per BNP Paribas Single MR ELI basis (determined by the calculation agent in its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner) no later than the third business day after the date of termination. The fair market value of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will depend on factors such as the value of the embedded options, the number of scheduled trading days until the expiry date the price performance and the volatility of the reference stock, the market interest rate movements, our financial condition, the market's view of our credit quality, and our costs of unwinding any hedging arrangements relating to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and if a daily knock-in event, a knock-out barrier event or a double knock-out barrier event has occurred (if applicable). Depending on the then prevailing market conditions, this fair market value may be less, or substantially less, than the minimum redemption at maturity and the original amount you invested.
- For further details, please refer to condition 6 of the terms and conditions on pages 182 to 187 of this product booklet.

B. Adjustment to key dates

Will the keys dates relevant to the terms of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs be adjusted?	Some of the key dates relevant to the terms of a series of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs may be adjusted or postponed in certain circumstances.
(a) If the offer period of a series of BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is extended:	→ We will postpone all of the following dates: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(i) trade date;(ii) issue date;(iii) knock-in event date(s) (if applicable);(iv) knock-out barrier event date(s) (if applicable);(v) expiry date; and(vi) settlement date. If, on the other hand, the offer period is closed early, the dates mentioned above would not be brought forward or postponed.
(b) If the trade date, any knock-in event dates (if applicable), any knock-out barrier event dates (if applicable) or the expiry date falls on a day which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the related exchange are not scheduled to open for trading:	→ The trade date, the knock-in event dates (if applicable), the knock-out barrier event dates (if applicable) and the expiry date are determined on the basis of a scheduled trading day, which means a day on which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the related exchange are scheduled to open for trading. If any of these days falls on a day which is not a scheduled trading day, the affected date will be postponed to the following day on which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the related exchange are scheduled to open for trading.

(c) If the trade date, any knock-in event dates (if applicable), any knock-out barrier event dates (if applicable) or the expiry date falls on a “disrupted day”. This would include:

- a day that is a scheduled trading day but the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or the related exchange is not open for trading; or
- a day on which a market disruption event has occurred.

(i) For the affected trade date:

The trade date will be postponed to the following scheduled trading day which is not a “disrupted day” (up to a maximum of eight scheduled trading days). If the relevant disruption persists on the eighth scheduled trading day, we will cancel the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order and the issue price will not be deducted from your distributor on the issue date. We or your distributor will not charge you any fees for such cancellation.

(ii) For the affected knock-in event date (if the at-expiry knock-in event applies) or expiry date:

Such dates will be postponed to the following scheduled trading day which is not a “disrupted day” (up to a maximum of eight scheduled trading days). If the relevant disruption persists on the eighth scheduled trading day, we, as the calculation agent, will treat that eighth scheduled trading day as the adjusted date for the relevant affected date and we will estimate in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner the closing price of the reference stock on such day.

If any of these days is postponed, the corresponding settlement date will be postponed accordingly. No interest shall be payable for any postponement of the settlement date.

(iii) For the affected knock-in event date (if the daily knock-in event applies) or the affected knock-out barrier event date (if applicable):

Such dates will be disregarded (except where the relevant knock-in event date or the knock-out barrier event date falls on the expiry date, in which case it shall be postponed along with the expiry date — see paragraph (ii) above).

For further details, please refer to condition 2(c) of the terms and conditions on pages 170 to 180 of this product booklet.

(d) If the settlement date falls on a day which is not a “business day”:

(By “business day”, we mean a day (other than Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays) on which banks and foreign exchange markets are open for business in Hong Kong and the major currency business centre of the settlement currency as specified in the relevant term sheet.)

→ The affected date will be postponed to the following day which is a “business day”. We will not pay any interest for any postponement of the settlement date.

C. Arrangement upon the occurrence of an RMB disruption event

What happens if an RMB disruption event occurs on, or prior to and is continuing on, a scheduled date of payment?

In the case where the settlement currency of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is RMB, if an RMB disruption event occurs on, or prior to and is continuing on, any day on which any amount payable in RMB under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are scheduled to be paid:

An “RMB disruption event” means the occurrence of any event that, as determined by us as the calculation agent, in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, makes it impossible for us as the issuer:

- (i) to obtain a firm quote of a price in respect of any amount due and payable in RMB under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on the relevant scheduled date of payment in the RMB exchange market in Hong Kong in order to perform our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs;
- (ii) to convert into RMB for any amount due and payable in RMB under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs in the RMB exchange market in Hong Kong; or
- (iii) to transfer RMB between accounts inside Hong Kong,

in the case of (ii) and (iii) above, other than where such impossibility is due to our failure to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any government authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the issue date and it is impossible for us, due to an event beyond our control, to comply with such law, rule or regulation).

For the avoidance of doubt, the following events shall not constitute an RMB disruption event:

- (A) in the case of (i) above, our inability to obtain such firm quote solely due to issues relating to our creditworthiness; and
- (B) in the case of (ii) above, our inability to convert into RMB for any amount due and payable in RMB under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs solely due to issues relating to our creditworthiness.

→ Such payment in RMB will be postponed to the third business day after the date on which the RMB disruption event ceases to exist, unless the RMB disruption event continues to exist for twelve consecutive business days from the original date, but for the occurrence of the RMB disruption event, would have been the date for such payment. In such case, we shall make payment of the HKD equivalent amount no later than the third business day after such twelfth business day based on the mid-market exchange rate for offshore RMB of HKD per 1 RMB as per Bloomberg Page “CNHHKD Curncy” as of the closing time of the Exchange on such twelfth Business Day, provided that if such Bloomberg rate is not available to trade or if such rate is determined by the calculation agent as unreliable, we (as the calculation agent) shall determine such exchange rate in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner. We will not pay any extra amount for such postponed payment.

The above tables set out a ready reference of the possible adjustments that we may make to the terms and conditions of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, early termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, adjustments to key dates and arrangement upon the occurrence of an RMB disruption event.

If we (as the calculation agent) determine to make an adjustment to the terms and conditions or the key dates of a series of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or early terminate the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or take other actions upon the occurrence of an RMB disruption event, we will notify the distributor(s) as soon as practicable by no later than three business days after such determination has been made and the distributor(s) will in turn inform you. Any adjustments to the terms and conditions, early termination of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, adjustments to key dates and arrangement upon the occurrence of an RMB disruption event will be made by us (as the calculation agent) in our sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner.

BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of more than one year

- If you have purchased a BNP Paribas Single MR ELI with an investment period of more than one year, you can cancel or unwind (as the case may be) the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order during the period from (and including) the date you place your purchase order (the order date) to (and including) the fifth Hong Kong business day after the order date (this period is referred to as the “post-sale cooling-off period”). If you choose to do so, you will need to submit your instructions to your distributor within a specified timeframe (as specified in the relevant term sheet) on any Hong Kong business day during the post-sale cooling-off period. Any exercise of your right to cancel or unwind your purchase order shall be irrevocable.
- Upon receipt of your instructions to cancel or unwind your purchase order, the market agent is obliged to cancel the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI purchase order or unwind the BNP Paribas Single MR ELI at the order unwind price (as the case may be).
- The order unwind price will be determined by the market agent in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner in accordance with the formula as stated below.

Our transaction costs (if any), including any cost which has been incurred by us in unwinding

the hedging arrangements relating to such BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will also be included in the calculation of the market value adjustments. However, the order unwind price of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs will not be reduced by any commission paid to the distributor who sold you the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs. The order unwind price of our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs is capped at and may be substantially less than the issue price.

BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs with an investment period of more than six months

- If you have purchased a BNP Paribas Single MR ELI with an investment period of more than six months, we, as the market agent, will provide limited market making arrangements for the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on a bi-weekly basis on a weekday as specified in the relevant term sheet after (and excluding) the issue date up to (and including) the third Hong Kong business day before the expiry date (each, a market making day), or if any such market making day is not a Hong Kong business day on which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange is scheduled to open for trading, that market making day will be postponed to the next Hong Kong business day on which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange is open for trading.
- On each market making day, we (as the market agent) will (i) make available (through the distributors) indicative bid prices (on a per BNP Paribas Single MR ELI basis) during normal business hours; and (ii) provide (through the distributors) a firm bid price for the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs (on a per BNP Paribas Single MR ELI basis) upon your request, provided that your request for a firm bid price (on a per BNP Paribas Single MR ELI basis) is submitted to your distributor within a specified timeframe (as specified in the relevant term sheet) on such market making day. You may choose to sell all or some of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs provided that the total number of BNP Paribas Single MR ELI you choose to sell is an integral number.
- The indicative bid prices will be determined by the market agent at its sole and absolute discretion acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner and taking into account certain factors such as market interest rate movements, our financial condition, the market's view of our credit quality, the value of the embedded options, the number of scheduled trading days until the expiry date, the price performance and price volatility of the reference stock, any cost which is, or would be, incurred by us in unwinding our hedging arrangements relating to the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs and if a daily knock-in event, a knock-out barrier event or a double knock-out barrier event has occurred (if applicable). Such indicative bid prices will be subject to intra-day change, depending on the prevailing market conditions.
- The indicative bid prices are provided for your reference only as they may not be the same as the firm bid price at which the market agent is willing to buy back the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.

- Upon your request for a firm bid price, the market agent will determine the firm bid price at which it is willing to buy back the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs (in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner) based on the indicative bid price and, depending on the prevailing market conditions at the time you request for the firm bid price, adjusted for any intra-day market changes. We will notify your distributor of such firm bid price and your distributor will in turn inform you. You should note that the firm bid price provided to you by your distributor will only be valid for a limited period of time as notified to you by the distributor. Upon acceptance of the firm bid price by you within that specified period of time, the market agent will buy back the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs at such firm bid price on such market making day.
- Please note that the amount you receive from selling your BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs on a market making day may be substantially less than the minimum redemption at maturity and your original investment amount. Also, your distributor may charge you a fee for handling the market-making arrangement applications when you sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to us on a market making day and such fees or charges will reduce the amount you receive. Please contact your distributor for details.
- In addition, if the settlement currency is RMB and an RMB disruption event occurs on, or prior to and is continuing on, the relevant date of payment, such payment will be postponed and may be made in a HKD equivalent amount. Please refer to the section headed “The BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs — Extraordinary Unforeseeable Events, Adjustments to Terms and Conditions, Early Termination, Adjustments to Key Dates and Arrangement Upon the Occurrence of an RMB Disruption Event” on pages 128 to 135 of this product booklet for further details.
- If you choose to sell the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs back to us on a market making day, the market agent will deliver the sale proceeds of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs to your distributor no later than the third business day after that market making day and your distributor will deliver such proceeds to you on the same day in accordance with its normal operating procedures. Please check with your distributor for details.
- In addition, you should note that market making arrangements may not be available on a scheduled market making day if the relevant BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs are affected by market disruption events or if the market agent experiences any technical problems beyond its control affecting its ability to provide a bid price for our BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs, including any power failure or breakdown of its computer system. If that happens, we will postpone the relevant market making day to the next business day on which the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the related exchange are open for trading which is not affected by any of such event or problem.

IMPORTANT RISK WARNINGS

- Structured Investment Product

The ELIs are NOT equivalent to time deposits and are NOT protected deposits for the purposes of the Deposit Protection Scheme. These are unlisted structured investment products embedded with derivatives.

- Not Capital Protected and Minimum redemption at maturity only

The ELIs are not capital protected. Provided that you hold the ELIs until expiry and the ELIs are not otherwise early terminated, the payout at maturity under the ELIs is subject to a minimum redemption level as specified in the relevant term sheet, which may be less than your initial investment amount. The ELIs are fully capital protected at maturity if the minimum redemption level is set at 100% or above, while the ELIs are partially capital protected at maturity if the minimum redemption level is set at a level below 100% (but will not be lower than 50% in any event). In general, where a higher minimum redemption level is set for the ELIs, the potential gain may likely be lower.

If the ELIs are otherwise early terminated or are sold to us before the expiry date under the market making arrangement, you may receive an amount which is substantially less than the minimum redemption at maturity and your initial investment amount.

Please note that the ELIs are also subject to other risks including our creditworthiness and the creditworthiness of your distributor and/or its custodian(s) as mentioned below.

- You may not receive any potential [bonus enhancement]^A [performance coupon]^{B/C} amount and payment of a potential [bonus enhancement]^A [performance coupon]^{B/C} amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario

The potential [bonus enhancement]^A [performance coupon]^{B/C} amount is only payable if certain conditions are met and may not be payable at all. You will not receive any potential [bonus enhancement]^A [performance coupon]^{B/C} amount on the settlement date [if a knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or]^B [if a double knock-out barrier event has occurred on a knock-out barrier event date or]^C [(i)]^A if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is [below the coupon barrier price]^A [equal to or below the participation strike price]^B [equal to the initial spot price and the minimum coupon rate is set at 0%]^C [or (ii) in the case where the coupon barrier price is set at a level equal to or lower than the initial spot price and the bonus coupon rate is set at 0%, if the closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date is at or below the initial spot price.]^A You should also note that payment of a potential [bonus enhancement]^A [performance coupon]^{B/C} amount does not automatically result in a gain scenario. ^B Applicable for Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs

^C Applicable for Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs

{[Applicable for Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs and Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs]}

If a [double]^C knock-out barrier event has occurred, you will receive on the settlement date a cash amount equal to the sum of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any). In this case, you may gain, break even or suffer a loss depending on how the minimum redemption level and the knock-out barrier coupon rate are set. You should note that you will suffer a loss if the sum of (i) the redemption amount (subject to the minimum redemption level) and (ii) the knock-out barrier coupon amount (if any) is less than your initial investment amount.

- No Collateral

The ELIs are not secured on any of our assets or any collateral.

- Liquidity Risks

The ELIs are designed to be held to their expiry date. Limited market making arrangements are available on a bi-weekly basis for the ELIs with an investment period (i.e. the period from and including the trade date to and including the expiry date) of more than six months. If you try to sell back to us your ELIs under the limited market making arrangements, you may receive an amount which is substantially less than your initial investment amount. There is no market making arrangement for the ELIs with an investment period of six months or less.

- Not the Same as Investment in the Reference Stock

Buying the ELIs is not the same as buying the reference stock. You have no rights in the reference stock during the investment period. Changes in the market price of the reference stock may not lead to any corresponding change in the market value of, and/or your potential payout under, the ELIs.

- Not Covered by Investor Compensation Fund

The ELIs are not listed on any stock exchange and are not covered by the Investor Compensation Fund in Hong Kong.

- Maximum Loss upon Our Default or Insolvency

Pursuant to the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (2014/59/EU), as amended (“BRRD”), the French legislation having implemented the BRRD and Regulation (EU) No 806/2014, as amended, certain resolution authorities are conferred with substantial powers to enable them to take or exercise a wide range of regulatory actions if they consider the failure of the relevant entity (including, such as, us) has become likely and certain other conditions are satisfied. These powers include powers to reduce, modify, cancel or convert, all, or a portion, of any amounts payable by us under the ELIs, into other securities of ours (or of another person), including by means of a variation to the contractual terms of the ELIs. In case any resolution power under the BRRD is exercised by the relevant resolution authorities over us, you may lose all or a substantial part of your investment in the ELIs. For more information, please refer to the “Risk Warnings” section of the product booklet.

- Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance

As an authorised institution regulated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority, we are subject to and bound by the Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance (Cap. 628, the Laws of Hong Kong) (“FIRO”). The exercise of any resolution power by the relevant resolution authority under the FIRO in respect of us may have a material adverse effect on the value or potential payout of the ELIs, and as a result, you may not be able to recover all or any amount due under the ELIs. In the worst case scenario, you may get nothing back and you could lose all of your investment.

- No Direct Contractual Rights Against Us

The ELIs are held either (i) through the clearing system or (ii) outside the clearing system through a distributor. You do not have any direct contractual rights against us (as the Issuer). To assert your rights as an investors in the ELIs, you will have to rely on your distributor or its custodian(s) to take action on your behalf and you will be exposed to their credit risk. This is a complicated area of law and if you have any doubt or wish to understand more, you should obtain independent legal advice.

- English version of the terms and conditions may prevail

If the ELIs are held through international securities clearing systems, the terms and conditions of the ELIs are issued in English only for the purposes of lodgement with the relevant clearing systems, and shall prevail over the Chinese version of the terms and conditions contained in the Chinese version of the Product Booklet in the event of inconsistency. If you do not understand the English version, you should obtain independent professional advice.

- Enforcement of Judgments

A large portion of our business, assets and operations are located outside Hong Kong. If you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) have obtained a judgment against us in a Hong Kong court upon a default of our obligations under the ELIs and our assets in Hong Kong are not sufficient to satisfy all the claims, you or your distributor or its custodian(s) (as the case may be) may have to enforce the Hong Kong judgment against our assets outside Hong Kong and may experience difficulties and delays in doing so or may not be able to enforce it at all. If you are in any doubt, you should seek independent legal advice regarding this. In the worst case scenario, you could lose all of your investment.

- You Are Exposed to the Risks in respect of the ELIs from the Trade Date

As you will be subject to the terms and conditions of the ELIs from the trade date, you will be exposed to the risks in respect of the ELIs from the trade date (including market risk and (if applicable) exchange rate risk).

- Conflicts of Interest

Potential and actual conflicts of interest may arise from the different roles played by us and our subsidiaries and affiliates in connection with the ELIs. Our economic interests in each role may be adverse to your interests in the ELIs.

- Additional risks for RMB-denominated ELIs, and/or the ELIs linked to RMB-quoted Reference Stock

Where the settlement currency of the ELIs is RMB, and/or any reference stock is denominated and traded in RMB, the performance of such ELIs may be adversely affected due to risks relating to RMB, such as the current limited pool of RMB outside Chinese Mainland, offshore RMB exchange rate risk and RMB interest rate risk. Our payment under any RMB-denominated ELIs may also be postponed, or delivered in a HKD equivalent amount upon occurrence of an RMB disruption event.

Commissions:

We may pay a commission to the distributor(s). Distributor(s)' commissions and other transaction costs including our cost of hedging are factored into the determination of the commercial terms (including the issue price) of the ELIs.

Where the Reference Stock is a unit or share in a fund, you should note that we are not able to control or predict the actions of the trustee or the manager of the fund and that such fund will have its own terms and conditions, which have not been issued or approved by us.

The trustee(s) and/or manager(s) of the fund is/are responsible for making investment, trading and/or other asset management decisions with respect to the fund consistent with the investment objectives, investment restrictions and/or strategy as set out in its constitutive documents. The manner in which the fund is managed and the timing of any such action may have a significant impact on the performance of the fund which in turn affects the market value and/or potential payout of the ELIs. We do not in any way guarantee the performance of the fund or the amount payable under the ELIs.

Neither the trustee(s), the manager(s) nor any other service provider(s) of the fund (i) is involved in the offer of the ELIs in any way, or (ii) has any obligation to consider your interest or the interest of any distributor (as our counterparty) in taking any actions that might affect the market price of the units or shares of the fund and, in turn, affect the market value and/or potential payout of the ELIs.

Risk factors specific to ELIs linked to an exchange traded fund (“ETF”)

Where the Reference Stock is the unit or share of an ETF, the following applies. An ETF is exposed to the political, economic, currency and other risks related to the underlying asset pool or index that the ETF is designed to track. There may also be disparity between the performance of the ETF and the performance of the underlying asset pool or index that the ETF is designed to track as a result of, for example, failure of the tracking strategy, currency differences, fees and expenses. In addition, where the index or market that the ETF tracks is subject to restricted access, the efficiency in the unit or share creation or redemption to keep the price of the ETF in line with its net asset value may be disrupted, causing the ETF to trade at a premium or discount to its net asset value. Such risks may have a negative impact on the performance of the ETF and the market value and/or potential payout of the ELI.

Risk factors specific to ELIs linked to an ETF which adopts a synthetic replication investment strategy

Where the Reference Stock is the unit or share of a synthetic ETF which adopts a synthetic replication investment strategy to achieve its investment objectives by investing in financial derivative instruments, you should note that (i) by investing in financial derivative instruments, the ETF is exposed to the credit, potential contagion and concentration risks of the counterparties who issued the financial derivative instruments. As such counterparties are predominantly international financial institutions, the failure of one such counterparty may have a negative effect on other counterparties of the ETF. Even if the ETF has collateral to reduce the counterparty risk, there may still be a risk that the market value of the collateral has fallen substantially when the ETF seeks to sell the collateral; and (ii) the ETF may be exposed to higher liquidity risk if such financial derivative instruments do not have an active secondary market. Such derivatives may have to be valued or sold at a much lower price than those with an active secondary market given a wider bid-offer spread in the price of the derivatives. This may result in losses in the ETF and may adversely affect the market value and/or potential payout of the ELIs in which case you may suffer a loss in your investment.

Risk factors specific to ELIs linked to an ETF investing through QFI regimes and/or China Connect (“China ETF”)

Where the Reference Stock is the unit or share of an ETF investing through the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor regime and the RMB Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor regime (collectively, “QFI regimes”) and/or the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect (collectively, “China Connect”), you should note that:

- (a) the policy and rules for QFI regimes and China Connect prescribed by the PRC central government are subject to change, and there may be uncertainty to their implementation. Such uncertainty and potential change of the laws and regulations for QFI regimes and China Connect in Chinese Mainland may adversely impact on the performance of a China ETF, and may also have potential retrospective effect. These changes may in turn adversely affect the market value and/or potential payout of the ELIs;
- (b) a China ETF primarily invests in securities traded in the Chinese Mainland’s securities markets and is subject to concentration risk. Investment in the Chinese Mainland’s securities markets (which are inherently stock markets with restricted access) involves certain risks and special considerations as compared with investment in more developed economies or markets, such as greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks. The operation of such China ETF may also be affected by interventions by the applicable government(s) and regulators in the financial markets;
- (c) trading of securities invested by a China ETF under the China Connect will be subject to a daily quota which is utilised on a first-come-first serve basis under the China Connect. In the event that the daily quota under the China Connect is reached, the manager may need to suspend creation of further units or shares of such China ETF, and therefore may affect liquidity in unit or share trading of such China ETF. In such event, the trading price of a unit or share of such

China ETF is likely to be at a significant premium to its net asset value, and may be highly volatile. The People's Bank of China and the State Administration of Foreign Exchange have published the detailed implementation rules removing the investment quota allocated to such China ETF under the QFI regimes with effect from 6 June 2020; and

- (d) there are risks and uncertainties associated with the current Chinese Mainland tax laws applicable to China ETF investing in Chinese Mainland through QFI regimes and/or China Connect. Although such China ETF may have made a tax provision in respect of potential tax liability, the provision may be excessive or inadequate. Any shortfall between the provisions and actual tax liabilities may be covered by the assets of such China ETF and may therefore adversely affect the net asset value of such China ETF and the market value and/or potential payout of the ELIs.

Although the units or shares of such China ETF are listed on the Exchange, there is no guarantee that an active trading market for such units or shares will sustain or, if an active market does develop, liquidity of that market can be sustained. Also, the price and trading volume of the units or shares of such China ETF may be highly volatile subject to the market sentiment, and may be more volatile than would generally be expected for ETFs with a longer trading history.

Risk factors specific to ELIs linked to a real estate investment trust

Where the Reference Stock is a unit of a real estate investment trust, please note the additional risk factors below. The investment objective of a real estate investment trust is to invest in a real estate portfolio. The real estate investment trust is exposed to the risks relating to investments in real estate, including but not limited to (a) adverse changes in political or economic conditions; (b) changes in interest rates and the availability of debt or equity financing and (c) any uninsurable losses. There may also be disparity between the market price of the units of the real estate investment trust and the net asset value per unit. This is because the market price of the units of the real estate investment trust also depends on many factors, including but not limited to (a) the market value and perceived prospects of the real estate portfolio; (b) changes in economic or market conditions; and (c) changes in market valuations of similar companies. You should read the offering document of the real estate investment trust for further information about the risks applicable to the real estate investment trust.

Risk factors specific to ELIs linked to shares of a company or units or shares of a fund which are traded through the multiple counter model

Where the Reference Stock is a share of a company or a unit or share of a fund which is traded through the multiple counter model for trading of its shares or units on the Exchange in HKD and one or more foreign currencies (such as RMB and/or United States dollars) (each a "Foreign Currency") separately, you should note that:

- (a) the ELIs may be linked to HKD-traded and/or Foreign Currency-traded shares or units. If the reference stock is shares or units traded in one currency counter, movements in the trading prices of the shares or units traded in another currency counter should not directly affect the market value of, and/or the potential payout under the ELIs;
- (b) if there is a suspension of inter-counter transfer of such shares or units between different currency counters for any reason, such shares or units will only be able to be traded in the relevant currency counter on the Exchange, which may affect the demand and supply of such shares or units and have an adverse effect on the market value of, and/or the potential payout under the ELIs; and
- (c) the trading price on the Exchange of shares or units traded in one currency counter may deviate significantly from the trading price on the Exchange of shares or units traded in another currency counter due to different factors, such as market liquidity, foreign exchange conversion risk, supply and demand in each counter and exchange rate fluctuation. Changes in the trading price of the reference stock in the relevant currency counter may adversely affect the market value of, and/or the potential payout under the ELIs.

You should read the offering documents of the company or the fund for more details.

The applicable Term Sheet for the ELIs is attached to the Global Certificate and supplements these Conditions and may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with these Conditions, vary, amend or supplement these Conditions for the purposes of the ELIs. References herein to the “applicable Term Sheet” are to the final Term Sheet attached to the Global Certificate.

- (e) Agreement and acknowledgement with respect to the exercise of the Bail-In Power. Notwithstanding any other term of the ELIs or any other agreements, arrangements, or understandings between the Issuer and any ELI holder, by its acquisition of the ELIs, each ELI holder (which, for the purposes of this Condition, includes each holder of a beneficial interest in the ELIs) acknowledges, accepts, consents and agrees to be bound by:
 - (i) the effect of the exercise of the Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authority, that may include and result in any of the following, or some combination thereof:

Neither a reduction or cancellation, in part or in full, of any amounts payable by the Issuer under the ELIs, the conversion thereof into another security or obligation of the Issuer or another person, as a result of the exercise of the Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authority with respect to the Issuer, nor the exercise of the Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authority with respect to the ELIs will be an event of default.

Upon the exercise of the Bail-In Power by the relevant resolution authority with respect to the ELIs, the Issuer will provide a written notice to the ELI holder as soon as practicable regarding such exercise of the Bail-In Power pursuant to Condition 9.

For Part F, we assume that:

- (a) a knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on a knock-out barrier event date is “above” the knock-out barrier price; and
- (b) the knock-out barrier event dates are set as each scheduled trading day from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date.

Scenario 1 — where a knock-out barrier event has occurred

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD65.00.

The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on certain scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date closes above the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has occurred.

The table below sets out the settlement amount on the settlement date based on the setting of different knock-out barrier coupon rates:

Assuming the knock-out barrier coupon rate is:	60% (gain case scenario)	50% (nominal amount scenario)	0% (worst case scenario)
Settlement amount on the settlement date	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD5,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 50.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD6,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 60.0000%) on the settlement date.	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD5,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 50.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD5,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 50.0000%) on the settlement date.	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD5,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 50.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD0 (being HKD10,000 x 0%) on the settlement date.
Total payout on investment	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD110,000 (being HKD50,000 (redemption amount) + HKD60,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 10.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}110,000 - \text{HKD}100,000) / \text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD100,000 (being HKD50,000 (redemption amount) + HKD50,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to the nominal amount and a break even compared to the total issue price paid.	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD50,000 (being HKD50,000 (redemption amount) + HKD0 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a loss of 50.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}50,000 - \text{HKD}100,000) / \text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 2 — Gain case scenario (where a knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the participation strike price and the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is greater than the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD75.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has not occurred.
- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD5,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 50.0000%) and the potential performance coupon amount of HKD10,000.00 (calculated as: HKD10,000 x 100% (the performance coupon rate, being the higher of 0 and 100.0000% (calculated as: 200.0000% x [(HK75.00 - HKD50.00)/HKD50.00]))) on the settlement date.

Total payout on investment

- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD150,000 (being HKD50,000 (redemption amount) + HKD100,000 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 50.0000% (being [(HKD150,000 - HKD100,000)/HKD100,000] x 100%) compared to the total issue price paid.

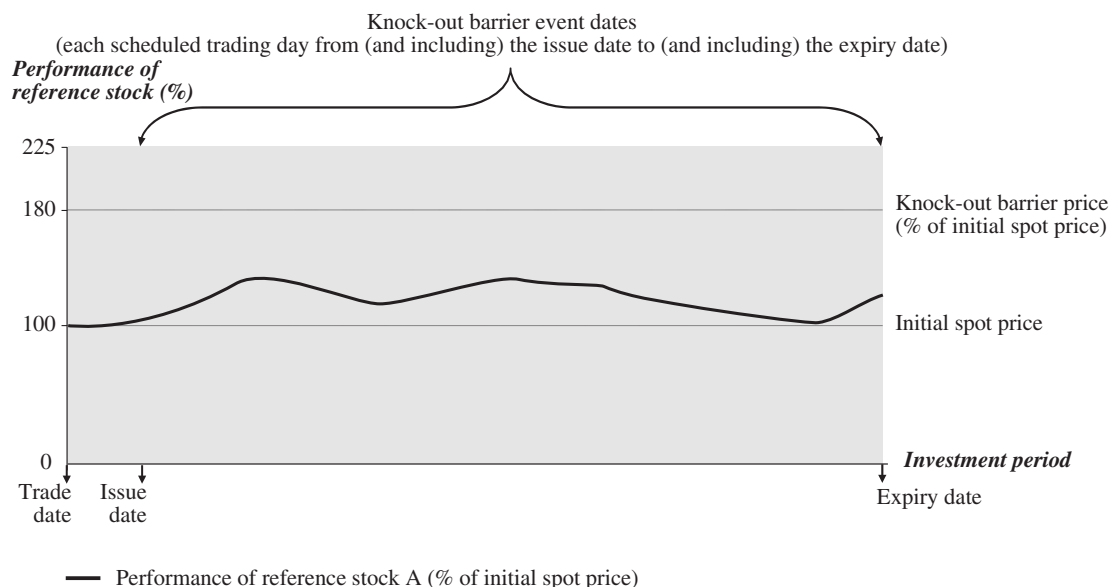

Scenario 3 — Nominal amount scenario (where a knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the participation strike price but the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is equivalent to the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD62.50.

Settlement amount on the settlement date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> — The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Scenario 4 — Loss case scenario (where a knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the participation strike price but the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is lower than the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD60.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> — The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Scenario 5 — Worst case scenario (where a knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is below the participation strike price and drops to zero)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD0.

Settlement amount on the settlement date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> — The above diagram illustrates that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Scenario 6 — Where an RMB disruption event occurs on the settlement date and continues to exist for twelve consecutive business days from the settlement date (RMB disruption scenario)

Taking scenario 1 above, assuming that (i) the settlement currency is RMB, (ii) the nominal amount and the issue price for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI are RMB8,000, and (iii) the knock-out barrier coupon rate is 60%:

- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of RMB4,000.00 (being RMB8,000 x 50.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of RMB4,800.00 (being RMB8,000 x 60.0000%) on the settlement date.
- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELIs, investor receives a total payout of RMB 88,000 (being RMB40,000 (redemption amount) + RMB48,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 10.0000% (being $[(RMB88,000 - RMB80,000)/RMB80,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

If an RMB disruption event occurs on the settlement date and continues to exist for twelve consecutive business days from the settlement date, investor will receive for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI, by no later than the third business day after such twelfth business day, the payment of redemption amount (i.e. RMB4,000.00) together with the knock-out barrier coupon amount (i.e. RMB4,800.00) in an equivalent amount in HKD calculated by the calculation agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner by converting such amount payable in RMB into HKD using the exchange rate as of such twelfth business day. Investor will therefore be exposed to the risk of fluctuation in the exchange rate of offshore RMB against HKD.

Assuming that the exchange rate for HKD per 1 offshore RMB prior to the occurrence of the RMB disruption event is 1.15 and RMB depreciates significantly against HKD following the occurrence of an RMB disruption event and the exchange rate as of the twelfth business day from the settlement date is 0.50, investor will suffer a loss of HKD5,720.00 for each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out WOEP ELI in HKD terms as the equivalent amount in HKD paid to investor, being HKD4,400.00 (i.e. RMB8,800.00 x 0.50), is substantially less than the value of the relevant amount payable in RMB on the original payment date in HKD terms (calculated based on the exchange rate between offshore RMB and HKD prior to the occurrence of the RMB disruption event), being HKD10,120.00 (i.e. RMB8,800.00 x 1.15).

— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out DKI ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD80,000, which is equivalent to a loss of 20.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}80,000 - \text{HKD}100,000)/\text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 7 — Worst case scenario (where a knock-out barrier event has not occurred but a daily knock-in event has occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is below the exercise price and drops to zero)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD0.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

For Part H, we assume that:

- (a) a knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on a knock-out barrier event date is “above” the knock-out barrier price; and
- (b) the knock-out barrier event dates are set as each scheduled trading day from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date, while the at-expiry knock-in event date is set as the expiry date.

Scenario 1 — Gain case scenario I (where a knock-out barrier event has occurred)

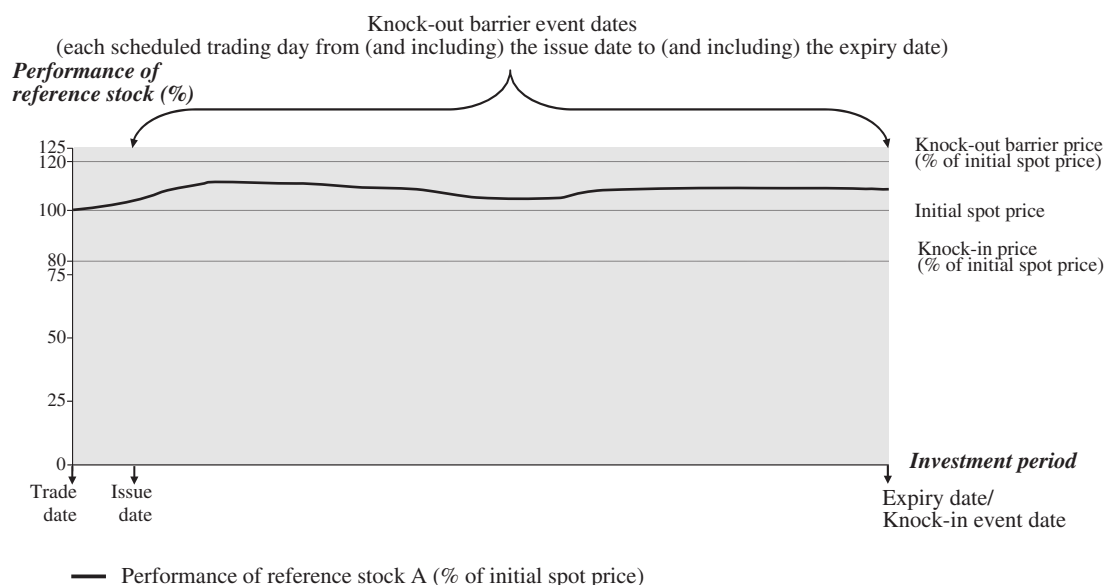

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD46.50.

Settlement amount on the settlement date — The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on certain scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date closes above the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has occurred.

— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELI, investor receives the nominal amount of HKD10,000 and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD300.00 (being HKD10,000 x 3.0000%) on the settlement date.

Total payout on investment — For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD103,000 (being HKD100,000 (nominal amount) + HKD3,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 3.0000% (being $[(HKD103,000 - HKD100,000)/HKD100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 2 — Gain case scenario II (where both knock-out barrier event and at-expiry knock-in event have not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the participation strike price)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD55.00.

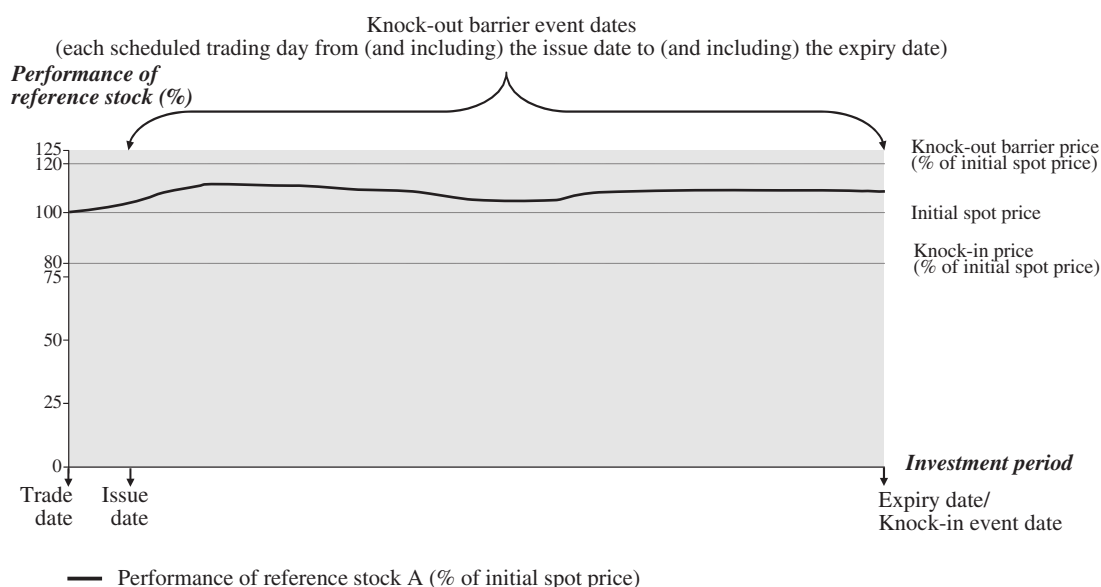

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that:
 - (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has not occurred; and
 - (ii) the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the knock-in price. Therefore, an at-expiry knock-in event has not occurred.
- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELI, investor receives the nominal amount of HKD10,000 and the potential performance coupon amount of HKD550.00 (calculated as: $\text{HKD}10,000 \times 5.5000\%$ (the performance coupon rate, being the higher of 0 and 5.5000% (calculated as: $[(\text{HKD}55.00 - \text{HKD}52.50)/\text{HKD}50.00] \times 110\%$))) on the settlement date.

Total payout on investment

- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD105,500.00 (being HKD100,000 (redemption amount) + HKD5,500.00 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 5.5000% (being $[(\text{HKD}105,500.00 - \text{HKD}100,000)/\text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 3 — Nominal amount scenario (where both knock-out barrier event and at-expiry knock-in event have not occurred and the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is at or below the participation strike price)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD52.50.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that:
 - (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has not occurred;
 - (ii) the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is above the knock-in price. Therefore, an at-expiry knock-in event has not occurred; and
 - (iii) the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is at the participation strike price.
- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELI, investor receives the nominal amount of HKD10,000 on the settlement date.

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD36.00.

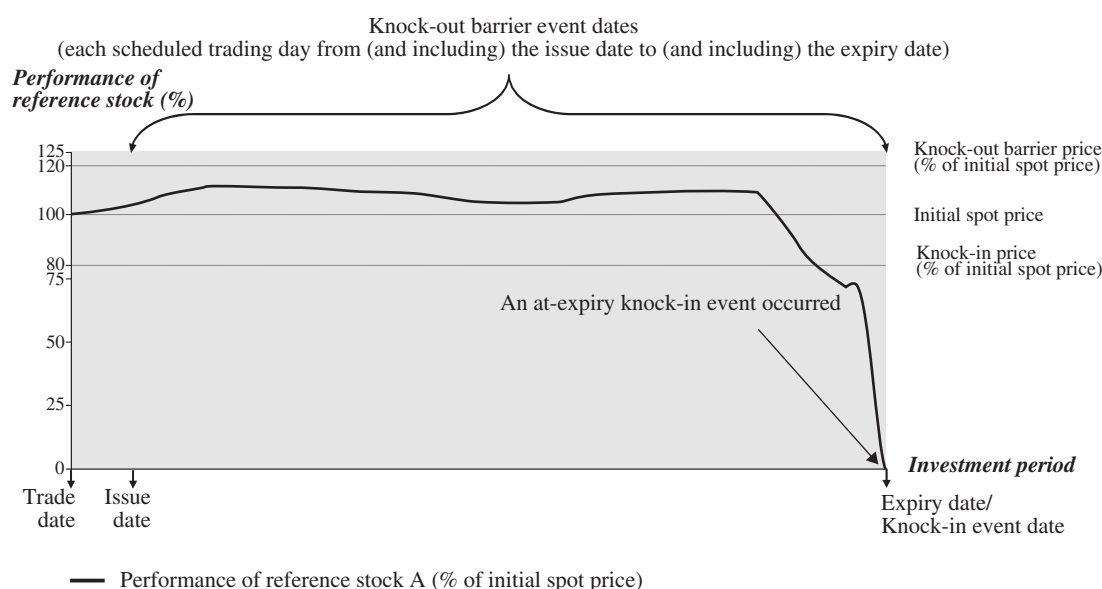

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that:
 - (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or below the knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a knock-out barrier event has not occurred;
 - (ii) the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date closes below the knock-in price. Therefore, an at-expiry knock-in event has occurred.
- The alternate redemption level is 80.0000%, being the higher of the minimum redemption level (50.0000%) and 80.0000% (calculated as: $(\text{HKD}36.00/\text{HKD}45.00) \times 100\%$).
- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Knock Out EKI ELI, investor receives a cash payment of HKD8,000.00 (being $\text{HKD}10,000 \times 80.0000\%$) on the settlement date.

Total payout on investment

Nominal amount for each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI	HKD10,000
Total issue price for 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs	HKD100,000
Total nominal amount for 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs	HKD100,000
Upper knock-out barrier price (150.00% of the initial spot price)	HKD75.00

Minimum redemption level	80.0000%
Redemption amount	Nominal amount x Minimum redemption level
Upside participation ratio	80.0000%
Downside participation ratio	80.0000%
Minimum coupon rate	0.0000%
Knock-out barrier coupon rate	See scenario 6 below
Settlement currency	HKD

Potential performance coupon amount	The higher of the following amounts: (a) the minimum coupon amount; and (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount, or the potential downside performance coupon amount (as the case may be).
Minimum coupon amount	Nominal amount x Minimum coupon rate
Potential upside performance coupon amount	Nominal amount x Upside performance coupon rate
Upside performance coupon rate	The rate calculated as follows: $\left(\frac{\text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date} - \text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \right) \times \text{Upside participation ratio}$
Potential downside performance coupon amount	Nominal amount x Downside performance coupon rate
Downside performance coupon rate	The rate calculated as follows: $\left(\frac{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock} - \text{Closing price of the reference stock on the expiry date}}{\text{Initial spot price of the reference stock}} \right) \times \text{Downside participation ratio}$

For Part J, we assume that:

- (a) a double knock-out barrier event occurs if the closing price of the reference stock on a knock-out barrier event date is either:
 - (i) “below” the lower knock-out barrier price; or
 - (ii) “above” the upper knock-out barrier price; and
- (b) the knock-out barrier event dates are set as each scheduled trading day from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date.

Scenario 1 — Best case scenario I (where a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is at the upper knock-out barrier price and the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is greater than the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD75.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that:
 - (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or above the lower knock-out barrier price and at or below the upper knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred; and
 - (ii) the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is at the upper knock-out barrier price.
- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the potential performance coupon amount. The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of:
 - (a) the minimum coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (being the minimum coupon rate), i.e. HKD0; and
 - (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 40% (the upside performance coupon rate, calculated as: (HK75.00 - HKD50.00)/HKD50.00 x 80%), i.e. HKD4,000. The potential downside performance coupon amount is not applicable to this case.

The potential performance coupon amount is therefore HKD4,000.00.

Total payout on investment

- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD120,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD40,000 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 20.0000% (being [(HKD120,000 - HKD100,000)/HKD100,000] x 100%) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 2 — Best case scenario II (where a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is at the lower knock-out barrier price and the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is greater than the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD25.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

— The above diagram illustrates that:

- (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or above the lower knock-out barrier price and at or below the upper knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred; and
- (ii) the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is at the lower knock-out barrier price.

— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the potential performance coupon amount. The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of:

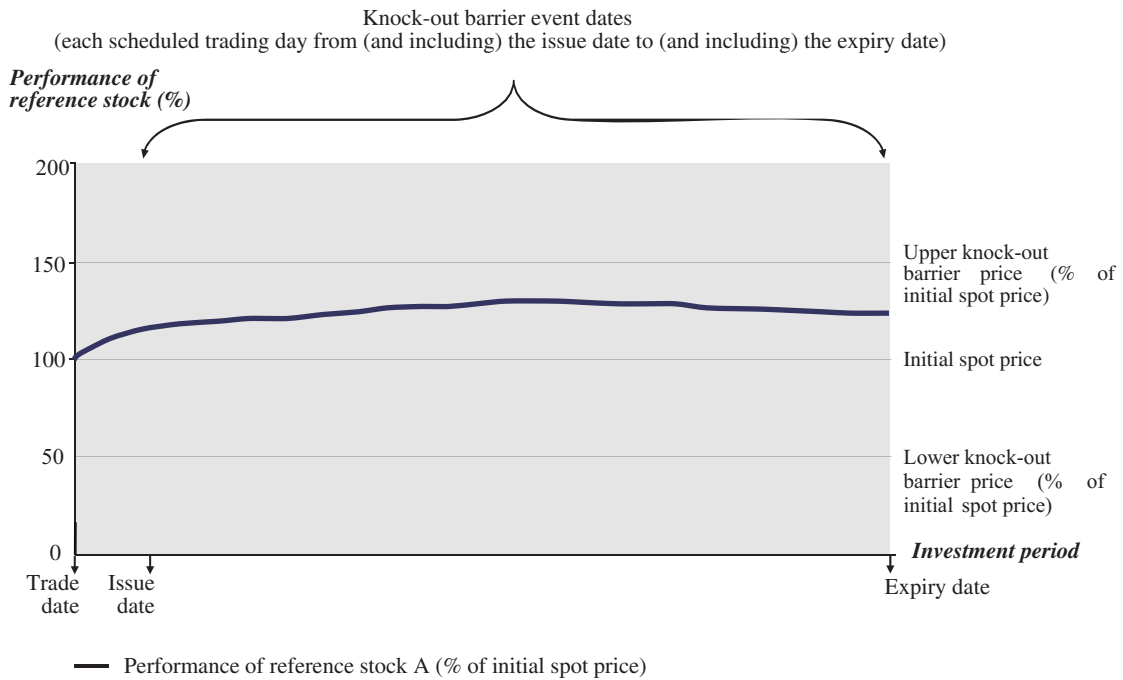

- (a) the minimum coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (being the minimum coupon rate), i.e. HKD0; and

(b) the potential downside performance coupon amount, calculated as: $\text{HKD}10,000 \times 40\%$ (the downside performance coupon rate, calculated as: $(\text{HKD}50.00 - \text{HKD}25.00)/\text{HKD}50.00 \times 80\%$), i.e. $\text{HKD}4,000$. The potential upside performance coupon amount is not applicable to this case.

The potential performance coupon amount is therefore $\text{HKD}4,000.00$.

Total payout on investment — For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of $\text{HKD}120,000$ (being $\text{HKD}80,000$ (redemption amount) + $\text{HKD}40,000$ (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 20.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}120,000 - \text{HKD}100,000)/\text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 3 — Nominal amount case scenario (where a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is above the initial spot price but the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is equivalent to the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is $\text{HKD}62.50$.

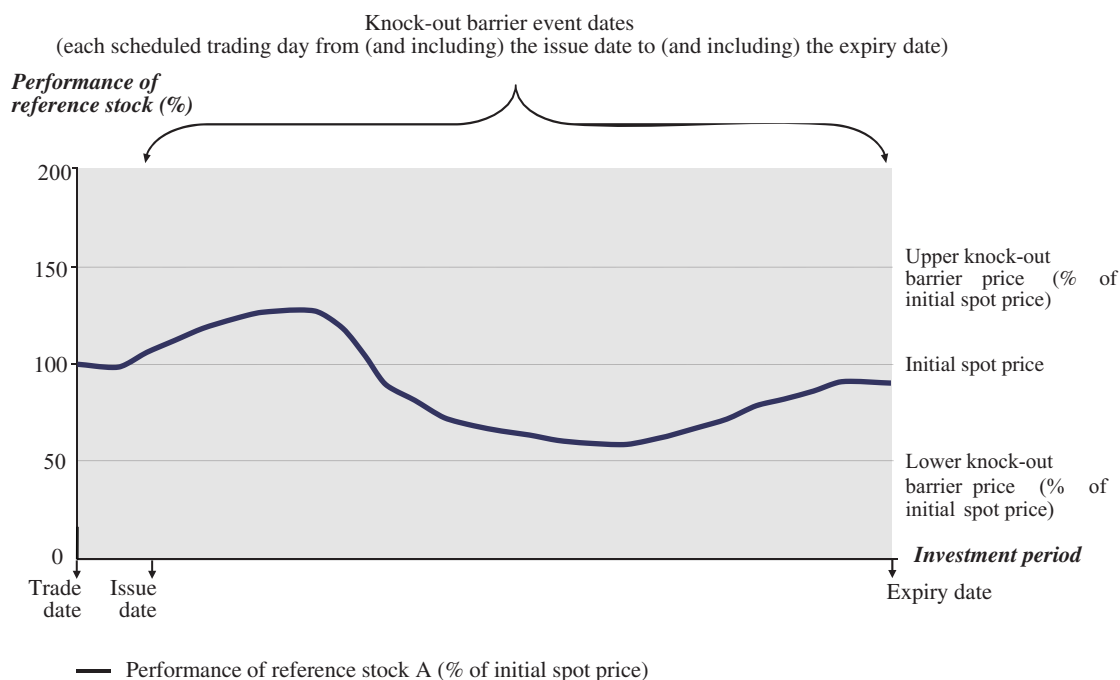

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- The above diagram illustrates that:
 - (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or above the lower knock-out barrier price and at or below the upper knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred; and
 - (ii) the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is above the initial spot price.
 - For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the potential performance coupon amount. The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of:
 - (a) the minimum coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (being the minimum coupon rate), i.e. HKD0; and
 - (b) the potential upside performance coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 20% (the upside performance coupon rate, calculated as: (HK62.50 - HKD50.00)/HKD50.00 x 80%), i.e. HKD2,000. The potential downside performance coupon amount is not applicable to this case.
- The potential performance coupon amount is therefore HKD2,000.00.

Total payout on investment

- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD100,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD20,000 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to the nominal amount and a break even compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 4 — Loss case scenario (where a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is below the initial spot price but the sum of (i) the redemption amount and (ii) the potential performance coupon amount is lower than the nominal amount)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD45.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

— The above diagram illustrates that:

- (i) the closing price of reference stock A on all scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date is at or above the lower knock-out barrier price and at or below the upper knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred; and

— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the potential performance coupon amount. The potential performance coupon amount is the higher of:

- (a) the minimum coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (being the minimum coupon rate), i.e. HKD0; and
- (b) the potential downside performance coupon amount, calculated as: HKD10,000 x 8% (the downside performance coupon rate, calculated as: $(\text{HKD}50.00 - \text{HKD}45.00) / \text{HKD}50.00 \times 80\%$), i.e. HKD800. The potential upside performance coupon amount is not applicable to this case.

The potential performance coupon amount is therefore HKD800.00.

Total payout on investment — For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD88,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD8,000 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a loss of 12.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}88,000 - \text{HKD}100,000)/\text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 5 — Worst case scenario (where a double knock-out barrier event has not occurred and the closing price of the reference stock A on the expiry date is equal to the initial spot price)

Assume that the closing price of reference stock A on the expiry date is HKD50.00.

Settlement amount on the settlement date

- For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and no potential performance coupon amount.
- The minimum coupon amount is calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (the minimum coupon rate).
- The potential upside performance coupon amount is calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (the upside performance coupon rate, calculated as: (HK50.00 — HKD50.00)/HKD50.00 x 80%) on the settlement date.
- The potential downside performance coupon amount is calculated as: HKD10,000 x 0% (the downside performance coupon rate, calculated as: (HK50.00 — HKD50.00)/HKD50.00 x 80%) on the settlement date.

Total payout on investment

- For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, the investor receives a total payout of HKD80,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD0 (potential performance coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a loss of 20.0000% (being [(HKD80,000 - HKD100,000)/HKD100,000] x 100%) compared to the total issue price paid.

Scenario 6 — where a double knock-out barrier event has occurred

The above diagram illustrates that the closing price of reference stock A on certain scheduled trading days from (and including) the issue date to (and including) the expiry date closes below the lower knock-out barrier price. Therefore, a double knock-out barrier event has occurred.

The table below sets out the settlement amount on the settlement date based on the setting of different knock-out barrier coupon rates:

Assuming the knock-out barrier coupon rate is:	30% (gain case scenario)	20% (nominal amount scenario)	0% (worst case scenario)
Settlement amount on the settlement date	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD3,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 30.0000%) on the settlement date.	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD2,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 20.0000%) on the settlement date.	— For each BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELI, investor receives the redemption amount of HKD8,000.00 (being HKD10,000 x 80.0000%) and the knock-out barrier coupon amount of HKD0 (being HKD10,000 x 0%) on the settlement date.
Total payout on investment	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD110,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD30,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a gain of 10.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}110,000 - \text{HKD}100,000) / \text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD100,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD20,000 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to the nominal amount and a break even compared to the total issue price paid.	— For 10 BNP Paribas Single MR Double Knock Out ELIs, investor receives a total payout of HKD80,000 (being HKD80,000 (redemption amount) + HKD0 (knock-out barrier coupon amount)), which is equivalent to a loss of 20.0000% (being $[(\text{HKD}80,000 - \text{HKD}100,000) / \text{HKD}100,000] \times 100\%$) compared to the total issue price paid.

K. Default Scenario — if we become insolvent or default on our obligations

- Assume that we become insolvent during the scheduled tenor of the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs or default on our obligations under the BNP Paribas Single MR ELIs.
- Investor will have to rely on his distributor (and, if applicable, through its direct or indirect custodian(s)) to take action on his behalf to claim as an unsecured creditor of ours.
